NUMBER OF DEAD
IS NOT REPORTED

City Isolated as Gale Wrecks Transportation; Damage Estimated at $2,000,000.

New York, September 13.—(AP)—Cable and radio communication with San Juan, Porto Rico, again had been interrupted late tonight as the result of the hurricane raging there, after a brief interval earlier in the evening when news dispatches of the storm damage were put through. At 11 o'clock the Western Union reported it had again lost its contact with San Juan. Similar reports were had from the All America Cable company and the radio corporation.

Dakota City, Neb., September 13.—(AP)—Eight persons, perhaps more, were killed, scores were injured, and thousands of dollars' worth of property was ruined by a tornado which swept across northeastern Nebraska late today.

The known dead are: Andrew Larsen, school boy, killed when twister hit school near Walhalla.

Miss Belt, another pupil.

Miss Phyllis Stuart, school teacher, near Winnebago, the Indian reservation.

Miss Helen Graham, school teacher, near Homer.

Raymond Reem, Winnebago.

Unidentified farmer and a son of Ralph Norris, Winnebago.

Three-month-old daughter of D. Kunsie, farmer, near Winnebago.

Nebraska villages reported in the path of the storm were Dakota City, Pender, Forsythe, Winnebago, Homer, Blaincroft and Walhalla. Destruction of telegraph and telephone lines and of roads made an accurate check of conditions difficult.

FORMER ATLANTA
FAMILY SUFFERS
DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Dallas, Texas, September 13.—(AP)—Frank Erwin, 14, was crushed to death by a falling boulder here yesterday as he was playing at the foot of a cliff, and his father, B. Frank Erwin, died from shock after learning of the tragedy.

The lad and two companions had been at work about half an hour completing work on a cave, when a huge overhanging rock gave way. Three youngsters were playing pirates when the cave-in occurred.

Physicians worked two hours ineffectually to save the elder Erwin's life.

The Erwin family which suffered the shock of a double tragedy at Dallas in the death of Frank Erwin, and his son, lived in Atlanta until 10 years ago.

The elder Erwin was a son of the late Colonel Howell Cobb Erwin and Mrs. Erwin, of Atlanta.

ALL CONTESTANTS
FORCED TO LAND
IN U. S. AIR RACE

Goebel Reaches Coast But Says He Stopped in Arizona; Haldeman Ends at Albuquerque.

Los Angeles, September 13.—(AP)—The feature event of the 1928 national air races, the non-stop flight from New York to Los Angeles, tonight was described by air meet officials as being "no race."

Art Goebel, Los Angeles, the only finisher, who reached Mines field at 3:20 o'clock this afternoon to receive the plaudits of the crowd as winner of the race, soon afterward quitted the enthusiasm with the revelation that he had not made a non-stop flight.

Lands in Arizona.

Goebel landed his Lockheed-Vega at Prescott, Ariz., earlier in the day, to spend more than an hour repairing a troublesome carburetor and replenishing a dwindling gasoline supply.

Nine planes hopped off from Roosevelt field, New York, late yesterday for the long grind.

The last contestant to land short of the goal was George Haldeman, of Detroit, who brought his Bellanca down at Albuquerque, N. M., at 5:00 p. m. Haldeman said he was running short of gasoline and bucking head winds as he neared Flagstaff, Ariz., and that he feared he might be forced to land on dangerous ground, he turned around and with the wind behind him returned to Albuquerque.

Flies Through Storm.

Haldeman said he flew through a bad storm near St. Louis last night.

Goebel, the only contestant to arrive here, commented that Haldeman, although flying a slower craft, left Roosevelt field three hours ahead of himself, and that the obvious reason for the Bellanca plane not arriving late today was a forced landing.

Goebel said probably lack of fuel ended the flight of the only known remaining contestant, explaining that he did not see how any plane could complete the non-stop grind against the winds and storms he had battled most of the night.

A single serious accident marred the flight. The Lockheed-Vega ship, piloted by Captain John Morris and carrying as passenger, Colonel William Thaw II, crashed into a fence

HARDMAN GIVEN
300 UNIT VOTES;
RIVERS GETS 114

Eugene Talmadge Renominated Over G. C. Adams for Place as Commissioner of Agriculture.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Governor L. G. Hardman was renominated by the democrats of Georgia Wednesday by a majority of more than two to one over his opponent, State Senator E. D. Rivers.

Returns compiled late Thursday gave Governor Hardman 300 unit votes to 114 for Senator Rivers. Two hundred and eight unit votes are necessary to a choice.

This gave Governor Hardman 113 counties to 48 for Senator Rivers. These figures were based on reports from each of the 161 counties in the state.

Talmadge Renominated.

Eugene Talmadge was renominated over D. C. Adams by a vote of nearly three to one in returns received for commissioner of agriculture. Talmadge had 246 county unit votes to 96 for Adams.

These figures gave Adams 28 counties and Talmadge 96.

Ninety-seven of the counties in the governor's race reported complete returns, while complete returns in the race for commissioner of agriculture were received from 87 counties.

Secretary of State George Carswell had a nearly four to one lead over his nearest competitor, J. J. Flynt, the county unit vote standing, Carswell 262, Flynt 78. D. T. Bowers, the third candidate in the race, was credited with eight county unit votes. Returns in this race were complete from 80 counties.

These placed 96 counties in Carswell's column, while 33 went to Flynt and eight to Bowers.

All the other incumbents in the state races won by wide margins.

Wright Has Big Vote.

William A. Wright, veteran comptroller general of Georgia, was sworn in as another officer, getting 288 county unit votes to 12 for his opponent, B. M. Bullard.

Likewise John W. Clark, commissioner of pensions, piled up 232 unit votes while his opponent, J. J. Hunt, was credited with 18.

G. A. Johnson overwhelmingly defeated A. H. Henslee for the vacancy on the prison commission caused by death of T. E. Patterson, getting 200 unit votes to 12 for Henslee.

Walter R. McDonald was named for another term on the public service commission by a vote of 276 to 12 for Felix E. Boswell. For the unpurified term of O. R. Bennett, deceased, on the public service commission, Percy T. Knight, with 208 votes, won over W. T. Bankston with 64.

R. E. Davison was nominated to succeed himself on the prison commission.

Mississippi Senator Says Atlanta Result Portends Democratic Victory in South in November.

New York, September 13.—(AP)—Commenting on the Georgia primary, Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, tonight expressed himself as "curious to know what the republican committee, which has been saying so much about the Maine election, is saying about the election in Atlanta."

"Everyone should know that the democratic committee made no fight in Maine, while the republicans sent practically every prominent speaker there," Senator Harrison pointed out.

"The republican majorities in Maine are like the democratic majorities in Mississippi, where we can give majorities 40,000 as for many years, or 200,000, depending on the efforts of the organization to get the vote out."

Declaring that no one will be deceived by the Maine returns, Mississippi senator added, "But in Atlanta republicans have been laying great claims of carrying that district through the nomination of Uphaw, who bolted the democratic ticket and was making a strong appeal. He received every assistance from those opposing democratic leadership in his district."

"There the democratic opposition chose their strongest men, selected the

How Gov. Hardman Carried Georgia

Governor L. G. Hardman carried 113 counties of Georgia's total of 161 counties in the primary elections Wednesday. Here are shown the 113 carried by the governor and the 48 counties which went to Senator E. D. Rivers, his opponent. The above results-at-a-glance map shows how the state went, with the exception of Dooly and Seminole counties, which should be black, as they were for Rivers.

FIND MISSING MAN
AFTER 14 MONTHS

Macon Youth Located in Texas, Newspaper Says; Auto and Bloody Cap Left in Macon.

Macon, Ga., September 13.—(AP)—Tom Scott Goolsby, 22, prominent Forsyth druggist, who dropped out of sight in Macon on the night of July 22, last year, has been found. He is alive and well in Texas, according to a story to appear in tomorrow's Macon Telegraph.

For 14 months the parents of the young man, Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Goolsby, of Forsyth, Ga., and their relatives and friends, have combed the United States and caused an international hunt for their son. No trace of the young man could be found until a week ago.

Friends of the Goolsby family, who are now residing in Texas, wrote to members of the family in Forsyth that they had seen Tom Scott Goolsby by there on Labor day. There were a number of letters from different people that brought the same information.

Parents Go to Texas.

The parents of the young man—who had never been able to satisfy their own minds as to whether he was dead or alive—and who had followed numerous wild clues that had led them to various parts of the country, caught the first train for Texas. They left here the first of this week.

Relatives were informed tonight that their hunt had been successful; that Tom Scott Goolsby was alive and well. No other details were contained in the message, further than that the parents are returning home this week-end. Whether Tom Scott Goolsby, the long missing young man, is returning with them was not disclosed in messages.

Why Tom Scott Goolsby should have abandoned his automobile on the Spring street bridge about midnight on the night of July 22, 1927, leaving blood stains in the car, his cap, and other evidence of possible foul play, is a matter that has never been explained.

The parents feared that he had met with foul play and lakes and streams in middle Georgia were dragged for the body, but no evidence ever came to the surface.

There were reports that he had been seen in several cities in Florida; in Mobile, and in New Orleans, but each of these clues was run down without

JONES TO PLAY
PHILLIPS FINLAY
IN SEMI-FINALS

Atlanta Golf Wizard Gains Semi-Final Bracket Following Decisive 14-13 Win in Amateur.

BY DICK HAWKINS.

Constitution Sports Editor.

Brae Burn Country Club, West Newton, Mass., September 13.—They turned loose the Behemoth of golf and sent him roaring around the Brae Burn golf course today. For three days his powers have been under leash but today they turned him loose in all his fury and the thirty-second national amateur golf tournament shook beneath the tread of his feet.

Go back through the musty archives of golf and you will find that once a man known as Jerry Travers beat another man known as George Crump by a score of 14-13, in a national amateur tournament. You may also find that comment of the press in that year, 1915, to the effect that such a record would stand for all time.

That astounding feat was duplicated today by Robert Tyre Jones, the Behemoth, when he overwhelmed John Beck, of England, by a score of 14-13 in the quarter finals of this tournament to advance to the semi-finals where he plays Phillips Finlay tomorrow. The lion of Great Britain growled and growled under the treatment but his cries of anguish were mere whispers in comparison with the noise of the Behemoth's advance.

Brilliant Performance.

In truth, the sound of those marching feet going from great shot to great shot drowned out the sounds of applause from the galleries that followed such great golfers as Phillips Finlay, Jimmy Johnston, Phil Perkins, Dr. Willing, George Voigt and Johnny Dawson. These artists were painting their own golf pictures, according to their own inclinations, but the gallery couldn't forget that somewhere else on the course a master hand was painting a masterpiece at the expense of a struggling Englishman.

It might be mentioned here that while Jones beat Beck 14 and 13; Voigt beat Dr. Willing by 4 and 3; Perkins eliminated Johnny Dawson by 3 and 1, and Finlay stopped Jimmy Johnston, of St. Paul, in a hard match by 2 to 1.

That golf lesson given to Great Britain by Robert Jones today was truly magnificent. The figures of that round tell a story of relentless golf, such as no man but a master could play and that no man could withstand. There were 23 holes of golf with Robert really making just two bad shots. He was in traps but twice on 23 holes and both times he took his par despite the mishap. He

CARNES PLANNED
CHICAGO MEETING WITH PROTEGEE

Miss Lois Griffin Says She Believes Treasurer Wanted Her To Tour Europe With Him.

ATLANTA DOCTOR
VISITED ACTRESS

Physician Said To Have Accompanied Miss Griffin and Mrs. Pope on Two Trips.

A "prominent Atlanta physician" was named in a subpoena to appear before the Fulton county grand jury today, issued Thursday night by Solicitor-General John A. Boykin on information from Los Angeles that the physician had not only visited Miss Lois Griffin in Hollywood within the last few months but that he also had accompanied Miss Griffin and Mrs. Louise Pope on trips to Boston and New York in the fall of 1927.

The physician was not named in dispatches carried by The Associated Press early this morning, nor would Mr. Boykin divulge his name.

In Los Angeles, Mrs. Pope denied that she had seen the physician when he was there. The Southern California police are advising the Atlanta dispatches said, and it was believed that the subpoena for the physician's appearance before the grand jury was issued on this advice.

Miss Griffin, who was questioned by Los Angeles police Thursday in connection with the missing Clinton S. Carnes, also told them that Carnes had attempted to arrange to meet her in Chicago, setting the date for August 15, which proved later to be the day the missing Baptist home mission treasurer disappeared from Atlanta.

This and information that Mrs. Louise Pope, who chaperoned Sonia Norida, Norwegian girl protegee of Carnes, was questioned at length by District Attorney Asa G. Keyes' office in Los Angeles over her knowledge of the whereabouts of the missing Baptist home mission treasurer were received in dispatches from the southern California city.

Girl Tells of Letter.

Miss Griffin told Detective Allen of the Los Angeles department that Carnes was asking her to meet him in Chicago, she replied telling him that she would meet him in Los Angeles or Atlanta. That was the last she heard, she said.

Miss Griffin did not want to go to Chicago, she told Allen, because she feared Carnes wanted her to go on a tour of the world. Carnes, in Atlanta before she left for the movie capital.

KILLER CAPTURED, OFFICER IS SLAIN

Cleveland, Ohio, September 13.—(AP)—Paul Jaworski, one of the men who engineered the sensational dynamiting of an express company truck in Pittsburgh two years ago and then escaped from jail while awaiting sentence after pleading guilty to shooting a guard, killed in the holdup, was shot and captured here today. He was believed dying tonight.

Jaworski was brought down as he tried to escape from a house where he had taken refuge after a flight in which he killed one patrolman and injured another.

Bystander Shot.
Patrolman Anthony Wiczorek was killed and George E. Effinger, a fellow officer, was wounded in the fight. Ben Majsterok, a bystander, was injured by a stray bullet.

Jaworski was surprised by the patrolmen and two Pittsburgh detectives in a restaurant where he was eating with a companion. Jaworski opened fire without a word, and Wiczorek fell dead. Effinger and the two detectives closed in but the fugitive ran to a house in a lumber yard two blocks away. The officers followed, shooting at him as he fled, but he got to the house apparently uninjured. His companions disappeared during the chase.

A flying squad of police and every available patrolman and motorcycle officer in the vicinity were summoned and the officers closed in on the house. For several minutes, Jaworski held them at bay, and then, his ammunition apparently running low, he dashed through the back door, firing as he came.

Truck Bombed.

In the payroll robbery in which Jaworski was convicted, a mine planted under the pavement demolished the truck and killed a guard, Jaworski and his gang escaped with a payroll of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal company, totalling about $104,000. They were captured on a farm several days later and most of the money paid over. Jaworski was convicted of murder for the guard's death, and was awaiting execution when he escaped. Detroit police also were hunting him as a suspect in connection with a holdup there last June 6 in which a patrolman was fatally wounded and part of the weekly payroll of the Detroit News was stolen. He was wanted also for questioning in connection with other Detroit robberies.

Effinger was reported in a dying condition at St. Alexis hospital tonight. Physicians issued a call for volunteers for a blood transfusion, believing that to be the only hope of saving his life.

WANTED FOR FIVE MURDERS.

Detroit, September 13.—(AP)—Paul Jaworski, who was shot while attempting to evade arrest today in Cleveland, is the super-highwayman of the last decade, in the opinion of local police.

Cool, ruthless and daring, he was wanted at various places over the United States for a total of five murders, exclusive of the Cleveland slaying, and scores of robberies, that have netted the perpetrators at least a million dollars, according to local authorities.

is winning a big reputation for the Arkansas statesman as an orator. Senator Robinson probably will be greeted by one of the largest crowds that ever assembled in the Atlanta auditorium. A vice presidential candidate is a rarity in Atlanta and when he is known to be one of the ablest orators in the nation and also is noted for the fighting spirit he displays in calling "spades spades" there is little doubt that standing room will be at a premium long before the time for the speaking arrives.

Active Steps Taken.

Judge Candler, in his capacity as chairman, already has taken active steps toward preparing a representative committee. He will arrive at the democratic headquarters in the Piedmont hotel at 10 o'clock Friday morning and take general charge of the recent news item. It was announced by Judge Candler that the Robinson meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night because the senator must leave Atlanta two hours later for Dowling Green, Ky., where he is billed to speak Wednesday.

Mr. Brooke organized his arrangement forces Thursday afternoon and named his lieutenants to help him in working out details of the entertainment plans. It is probable that Senator Robinson will be taken for a visit to one of the local golf clubs during his stay, while several luncheons and dinners have been suggested in his honor. Mr. Brooke said he is awaiting word from Savannah as to the exact time Senator Robinson expects to arrive in Atlanta before announcing the program of entertainment.

It was agreed that Senator Robinson will be met by a big band and by a big committee composed of some of the leaders of Georgia business, civic and social life. It was announced that United States Senator Walter F. George will introduce the speaker. Senator Harris will also attend the meeting as a member of the reception committee. Senator Harris is in Savannah and will introduce Senator Robinson to an audience there tonight. Senator Robinson then will go to Florida for two speeches and will arrive in Atlanta some time early Tuesday morning.

Aggressive Drive Planned.

With the state primary election on the way, the democratic leaders are preparing to wage an aggressive campaign for the democratic national ticket in all parts of the state. Judge Candler said the visit of Senator Robinson is a highly important event and will mark one of the outstanding features of the democratic campaign.

Judge Candler spoke of the personal work he has done in behalf of the national democratic ticket and said he expects to work with all of his energy in behalf of the democratic ticket.

Mr. Brooke will join Judge Candler at the democratic campaign headquarters today to direct operations in preparing for the Robinson reception. Another meeting of the special committee on arrangements will be held at noon Monday at the Ansley hotel, the members to be the guests of L. O. Moseley, who is a member of the committee. G. E. Maddox, of Rome, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, attended the meeting of the special committee held at the Ansley hotel Thursday afternoon.

The members of this special committee are Fred Wilson, Robert Troutman, Henry C. Heinz, L. O. Moseley, Sam Warren Candler, Paul Stevenson, Ryburn G. Clay, Fuzzy Woodruff, P. Van Story, Wiley Moore, Marion Smith, Walter Stewart, Dan McDougal, John T. Hardist, James B. Nevin, J. P. Allen, Frank Neely, Simon Selig, Robert Strickland and Paul Hanley.

Catholics Seeking the Reincorporation Of Oriental Churches

Rome, September 13.—(AP)—Pope Pius XI, in the third encyclical of 1928 issued today, returned to the theme of the first—the unity of the Christian church and the need for realization that "there shall be but one shepherd and one fold."

While the first encyclical of the year was directed at all non-Roman Christians, notably those Anglicans who were thought by the Vatican to be veering toward a union with Rome, this new papal plea was especially directed toward the communicants of the Oriental churches which Rome claimed to have severed from the Catholic church in the body of the Roman church.

The pontiff praised the work already accomplished in this direction and, without naming it specifically, he implied that the Catholic Near East Welfare association has been instrumental in obtaining much of this progress. The association, of which the Jesuits Father Edmund A. Walsh is president, is supported principally by contributions from the United States.

The pontiff rejoiced that there was a large force of clergy especially well equipped to deal with the problem of the Oriental churches. He approved highly the institutes of Oriental studies already functioning at Paris, Louvain and Lille.

and the Roosevelt hotel people will tell you when and how we checked in and how we conducted ourselves there, for there wasn't a day that we weren't under everybody's observation.

"I presume the physician travels about like any other business or professional man. If we happened to cross him in Boston or anywhere else, an old friend of the family for years and years, would that be any reason for any such horrid inferences that somebody seems to want to draw from a chance circumstance?"

"But has the physician been in Los Angeles in your knowledge at any time?" she was asked.

"Oh, that's applesauce," was as near as Mrs. Pope could get to a direct reply.

She was highly nervous and nearly incoherent as she flitted from one phase of the case to another.

"I want to help the authorities in any proper investigation. But I don't know anything about Mr. Carnes. Nobody was more surprised and shocked than I when the news came that he had disappeared. I'm not concealing anything."

"It's true that at first I said I didn't know Lois Griffin, but that was to shield her from being dragged into a case in which she is as innocent as any of us were doing or any of us know. I will help in solving the whereabouts of Mr. Carnes."

"But we weren't hiding anything that could help. We didn't know any thing. Mr. Carnes dropped out of our life two months ago. As he did out of the life of hundreds who had known him, and many who had experienced his generosity."

"Now they are trying to drag in such fine people as the Atlanta physician and others who have been for a lifetime above suspicion. What have they to do with the case? I don't believe the physician ever knew Mr. Carnes."

Every attempt to get an unequivocal answer to a query whether Mrs. Pope had seen the physician or known of his presence here failed to elicit a direct reply in her nervous and vacillating talk.

"I've employed an attorney," she said, "and shall have to refer everybody to him hereafter. I can't stand this harassment. I'm innocent of any wrong doing. I've only tried to aid an ambitious girl, and in doing so a mysterious twist of fate has involved us in a sensational case that is being magnified for purposes I can't fathom."

ly, and now the average salary is $2,200.

Noisy Welcome.

The senator was welcomed to Columbia this morning by the sound of fire sirens, the toll of automobile horns and escorted through the main street by motorcycle police.

He conferred during the day with Governor John J. Richards, who, along with the two South Carolina senators, E. D. Smith and Cole Blanton, and Lieutenant Governor Thomas B. Butler, were among those on the speakers' platform tonight.

During the afternoon Mr. Robinson and his wife visited the home of Woodrow Wilson during the years 1871 to 1874 and then to the cemetery where father and mother of Mr. Wilson are buried.

The senator's remarks on farm relief were in a large part the same as those given to the press in a prepared address at Charlotte, N. C., Wednesday night, which, he said, he forgot to refer to tonight. He emphasized what he said was a "disagreement" between Mr. Hoover and Senator Curtis, declaring the former wished "another conference," while the latter desired turning the farm problem over to a joint congressional committee.

He announced that Hoover was (perhaps) the dominating factor in a farm conference called by President Coolidge early in his administration, which, he added, recommended that the best way to restore agriculture to an equality was to reduce production to meet demands of the home market. He also asked if Senator Curtis had forgotten that several years ago a joint congressional committee had wrestled with the farm problem.

Mr. Robinson also said the farmer might as well go out of business as to wait for relief through the development of inland waterways which, he declared, Hoover had suggested.

most strategic point, made their strongest fight, and met overwhelming defeat.

The results in Georgia portend a sweeping democratic victory in the south in November, Senator Harrison declared. He quoted a wire from the democratic committee in Atlanta which said:

"Unless something unforeseen occurs election indicates clearly Georgia will give normal democratic majority November and same be true sister states in south."

The race between W. D. Upshaw, former congressman, and Congressman Leslie J. Steele for a seat in congress from the fifth Georgia district furnished the only real test in the primary of the strength of the anti-Smith democratic forces. Upshaw, who bitterly opposed Smith, lost by a majority of approximately 5,000 votes, which democratic leaders of the state say presages a normal democratic majority in the November elections.

success. Tom Scott Goolbsy's whereabouts was as much a mystery as ever until his parents came face to face with him today in a Texas hotel. Relatives of Tom Scott Goolbsy had always contended that the young man was not involved in anything that would cause his disappearance.

Friends of the young man had told the family that the young man had expressed a desire a few weeks before his disappearance "to see the world."

On the night of his disappearance he called on several friends in this city, among them one young woman in Vineville and another in Shirley Hills. He passed the former's home late at night, presumably headed toward his home in Forsyth. A filling station operator between Macon and Forsyth declared that he sold a gallon of gasoline to Tom Scott Goolbsy at 1:30 o'clock on the morning of July 23. It was a half hour later, however, that the abandoned automobile was found on the Spring street bridge here.

Former residents of Forsyth are living in Abilene, Texas. On Labor day, one of the families wrote, they saw Scott Goolbsy on the streets of Abilene, but did not speak to him, as they were not positive it was he. From another former Forsyth family in Abilene, two boys wrote that they had seen Goolbsy in a drug store, but neither did they speak, as they were not positive. The two boys wrote that he appeared to be selling drugs to the pharmacies of Abilene.

THREE TO MAKE UNOFFICIAL RACE.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., September

13.—(AP)—With no hope of sharing in the honors and rewards, the pilots of three entries forced out of the non-stop air derby indicated tonight that they would put on a cross-country race of their own, starting tomorrow, just for the satisfaction of finishing what they had started.

The ships to participate are Mrs. James A. Stillman's Bellanca North Star, and the two Stinson entries, all of which were forced out of the race by engine trouble.

magnifying glass, mock-seriously, as he sat at his desk today.

"What are you looking for, governor?" he was asked.

"I'm looking for the two men who were supposed to be holding me up," he said.

The picture showed Smith and members of his party standing in the box and smiling for the cameramen. The report was that the democratic candidate was in such a condition that two men had to hold him up.

He bent more closely. "No," he said, "I don't see them."

Smith reiterated today that he does not intend to make any back platform speeches at short stops on his campaign trip. Inquiries have come in from towns and cities at which the train will stop for a few minutes and where a welcome is being prepared.

Overstrain Voice.

The candidate explained that his voice would not stand the strain of making numerous open-air speeches and the six scheduled addresses. He added, however, that he would shake hands with the people who gather at stations to see him and meet him.

"I've been shaking hands all my life," he said, "and I don't intend to stop it now."

Smith pointed out also there is a difference in the presidential candidate and campaigner who reads his speeches and one like himself, who speaks extemporaneously, and thus throws himself vigorously into the address, which is much more of a physical strain.

The democratic candidate turned his attention tonight to state politics, conferring at the mansion with a dozen state leaders regarding selection of a democratic candidate for governor to succeed him.

ROY TOOMBS HELD UNDER $5,000 BOND

Chicago, September 13.—(AP)—Roy C. Toombs was held under $5,000 bonds today after his arrest on governor's warrants from Missouri charging him with embezzlement of assets belonging to the International Life Insurance Company of St. Louis, of which he was president.

Mr. Toombs voluntarily gave himself up at the sheriff's office. His counsel then accompanied him to the courthouse where Toombs obtained a habeas corpus writ to prevent his extradition to St. Louis. A hearing was set for October 8 and meanwhile he remains under jurisdiction of the federal referee in bankruptcy here. The latter is inquiring into the receivership of Toombs & Dailley, Chicago brokerage firm headed by the banker and insurance man, which failed recently.

E. G. Davison, assistant circuit attorney of St. Louis, said a total of $3,500,000 was involved in the alleged criminal manipulations of the insurance company assets blamed against Toombs and argued that Toombs should be held under higher bonds.

Toombs is under subpoena as a witness in the bankruptcy matter involving his brokerage firm and had evaded arrest until he surrendered today. The warrants were issued several weeks ago after insurance examiners reported that assets of the company were unaccounted for. He is charged specifically with grand larceny by embezzlement of $140,000.

PHYSICIAN SUMMONED IN CARNES PROBE

tal, had told her several times of his plans to visit the "capitals of Europe" when he had cleaned up his business here, she said.

"When I received his letter, I recalled his plan to visit the capitals of Europe," she told Allen, "and I feared that possibly he might attempt to persuade me to accompany him."

"So I answered his letter and told him that if he wished to discuss business matters with me, that Los Angeles or Atlanta would prove as good a meeting place as Chicago and suggested that he come here for the interview."

For some time today, police had three men "staked out" at a place where they had been told a man resembling Carnes was living. The suspect returned home, however, and was identified as not being the missing mission board treasurer.

Police officers who have been working on the case said tonight they were certain Carnes was not in southern California. The statement followed the collapse of the only crew upon which they had been working.

Solicitor-General John A. Boykin Thursday night wired District Attorney Keyes to make every effort to dig further into the case, even to watching the mail the three women in Hollywood receive.

Boykin's telegram to Mr. Keyes follows:

"Clinton S. Carnes indicted for embezzlement. Amount $69,000. Indications are that total sum will reach $1,000,000. U. S. Fidelity and Guarantee company authorizes reward of $5,000. Confer with chief of police about search for him. Three women are in Hollywood that he is believed to be in touch with. Get post-office inspector interested and watch mail. Have all mail covered that comes to these three women whose names are known to chief of police."

Miss Griffin was reported to have destroyed the correspondence received from Carnes and that the only record of their relations she had available, according to police, was an account book showing the receipt of money from Carnes totaling more than $5,000.

Visit Office of Keyes. Mrs. Pope, accompanied by her attorney, James E. Neville, voluntarily appeared at the district attorney's office in Los Angeles Thursday, September 13, to answer any questions of the official regarding her knowledge of Carnes.

At the close of an hour's conference with Chief Deputy District Attorney Murray, the latter said that he was convinced that Mrs. Pope knew nothing of the whereabouts of Carnes.

Mrs. Pope convinced me she knows nothing of Carnes' hiding place and so far as this office is concerned, we will not participate further in the case unless Atlanta authorities reveal some new evidence upon which we can act," Murray is reported to have said.

Transcripts of the statements of Mrs. Pope, Miss Norida and Miss Griffin, made to police, will be sent to Atlanta authorities.

Remain in Hollywood. All three intend to remain in Hollywood, dispatches said, with the two girls continuing their preparations for professional stage and screen careers. Mrs. Pope will make her home there.

Other indications of Carnes here are a certainty, it was said Thursday by John Hudson, assistant solicitor-general. "All we need now," Mr. Hudson said, "are clues to the missing man. If we can locate him and return him to Atlanta we will have many charges for him to face."

The solicitor-general's office is keenly interested in the Los Angeles end of the case, Mr. Boykin said Thursday. The fact that Mrs. Pope has said that "only the surface of the matter has been scratched," together with additional evidence which he believes can be verified, has led the solicitor-general to look for something tangent from southern California.

It was learned Thursday that Carnes in his youth, prior to his having served two terms in prison and to having become treasurer of the mission board only to default of a sum expected to pass $1,000,000, had become entangled in "several scrapes" only to be rescued by his father's purse. It was reported that Carnes was jailed here more than 20 years ago after he had deposited a draft in an Atlanta bank, drew against the account he opened with the draft, only to have the draft dishonored later. He also is said to have become short in accounts while employed as a railroad station agent in south Georgia, charges growing out of this affair having been dropped when his father, who now lives at Vienna, Ga., made good his son's losses.

METHODIST BISHOP URGES MINISTERS TO FIGHT SMITH

Tacoma, Wash., September 13.—(AP) Bishop Titus Lowe, of the Methodist Episcopal church, yesterday urged every Methodist minister and layman to get into the political campaign this year in opposition to Alfred E. Smith, democratic presidential candidate, and "any move to bring liquor back to America" in opening the Puget Sound conference here yesterday.

The bishop devoted most of his address to a call to ministers to make their power felt politically in this campaign.

northeast of Omaha, to the Missouri river south of Sioux City, reports to the Omaha Bee-News said. Two persons were injured seriously and a three-month-old baby was missing at Winnebago, Neb., the report said. Two sons of Ralph Norris were injured when the Norris house was demolished. A score of persons were saved by being rushed into a cyclone cellar between Homer and Winnebago by F. H. Forrest, of Dakota City.

Forrest and two linemen saw the approaching storm and ran to the home of Mrs. Edward Beardsley and sent the family to the cellar. Returning to the highway they stopped automobiles and trucks, sending drivers and passengers to the cellar. When the storm passed the Beardsley home was crumpled and autos and trucks were strewn over the highway. The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kunze, living north of Winnebago, was missing after the tornado demolished the Kunze house. The farm home of Larry Shannon, north of Winnebago, was wrecked. It was feared many others had been injured.

PIERCE HURRICANE AT SAN JUAN

San Juan, Porto Rico, September 13.—(AP)—Damage approximating $2,000,000 is believed to have been caused in this city by a tropical hurricane which struck here early this morning and late tonight still was raging.

The wind reached its highest strength at about 2:30 this afternoon. Just before that time the weather bureau's anemometer registered 132 miles an hour, but the instrument was carried away by the gale. The wind blew more than 100 miles an hour for five or six hours and is believed at times to have attained 150 miles an hour.

Tonight the city was in darkness and completely isolated from the rest of the island, all telegraph and telephone lines being down and transportation, even about streets here, being stopped. It is not known what is the extent of loss of life or injuries.

Shipping is believed to have suffered heavy losses. The freight steamer Helen pulled anchor during the storm and drifted on to rocks at the harbor entrance. Just before dark two sailing vessels in the harbor appeared to be sinking.

The roof of the Hotel Palace in the heart of San Juan was carried away, as was part of the roof of the Union club. Hundreds, if not thousands, of homes in San Juan are believed to have suffered either partial or total demolition. Trees by the thousands have been uprooted, many of them smashing into homes and falling across streets.

Coconut trees and other palms in the garden of the governor's palace have been flattened, while in the palace itself windows and doors were blown in by the wind and the building flooded with the torrential rain. At the weather bureau tonight it was stated that San Juan probably has borne the brunt of the storm, so far as the island is concerned, and that probably the south side of the island has suffered much less than this area.

Such were conditions tonight, even with the wind diminishing in force, that it will be days before communication between the city and all the islands can be restored.

"DANGEROUS STORM" SAYS WASHINGTON

Washington, September 13.—(AP)—The weather bureau issued an advisory storm warning at 9:30 o'clock tonight as follows:

"Advisory 9:30 p. m.—No report tonight east of longitude 71. However, hurricane probably central near southwestern point of Porto Rico, moving west-northward and will likely pass over or near Santo Domingo Friday morning. Greatest caution advised vessels near path; this is a dangerous storm."

DARKE TOWN WIPE OUT

Centerville, South Dakota, September 13.—(AP)—One person was killed and between 10 and 20 injured when a tornado wiped out the town of Davis, S. D., in Turner county, late this afternoon. Mrs. Jake Kramer was killed instantly when caught in a falling building.

HARDMAN GETS 298 UNIT VOTES

sion, getting 242 unit votes to 10 for his opponent, Hill C. Tuglie.

Judge Roscoe Luke, of the court of appeals, outdistanced Robert H. Blackburn 216 to 20, while Marcus W. Beck, associate justice of the supreme court, overhauled Lawton Nally 242 to 2.

Duggan Leading Ballad. State Superintendent of Schools M. L. Duggan with 188 county unit votes had a long lead over his opponent, N. H. Ballard, who had garnered 130. As additional figures are received it was indicated that the victory of the leaders would grow.

The balance of the state officers were named without opposition for another term, as were nine of the twelve congressmen.

In the three districts in which the incumbent congressmen had opposition one, L. J. Steele, of the fifth, was re-nominated by a big majority over his opponent, W. D. Upshaw.

Complete returns from the five counties of the district gave Steele a popular vote of 14,270 and 9,345 for Upshaw, and a county unit vote of 16 to 2 for Upshaw. Steele carried four of the five counties in the district, only one, Douglas, going to Upshaw by a small majority. The big voting counties of the district, Fulton, the home of Upshaw, and DeKalb, the home of Steele, gave the congressman handsome majorities.

Upshaw Fought Smith. This race was featured by the injection of the presidential angle. Upshaw having made a bitter fight against Governor Alfred Smith, the democratic presidential nominee, while Steele vigorously supported the entire democratic ticket from president down the line.

Partial returns from all counties in the eleventh district gave Congressman W. C. Lanford an apparent victory in his race with D. M. Parker. Lanford on the face of these returns apparently had obtained 32 county unit votes while his opponent has an indicated county unit vote of 12. On the basis of these reports Lanford was credited with carrying Atkinson, Brooks, Berrien, Bacon, Clinch, Coffee, Cook, Charlton, Echols, Glynn, Irwin, Jeff Davis, Lanier and Lowndes, and Parker was credited with majorities in Brantley, Camden, from which only one precinct had been reported, Pierce, Wayne, and Ware counties.

In the twelfth district complete returns gave Congressman W. W. Larsen majorities in 10 counties with a county unit vote of 26 and his opponent, Neal Gillis, led in five with 12 unit votes. Larsen's popular vote was 12,562 and Gillis' 11,303. Larsen carried Bleckley, Emanuel, Laurens, Montgomery, Peach, Pulaski, Twiggs, Toombs, Telfair, Wilcox counties and Gillis won in Dodge, Houston, Johnson, Treutlen and Wheeler.

Governor Hardman, in the popular vote tabulated, had received 101,450 to 73,269 for Senator Rivers.

The popular vote in the race for agricultural commissioner showed Tallmadge with 95,013 and Adams with 69,450.

Secretary of State Carswell had a popular vote of 75,829 while Flynt had received 52,982 and Bowers 24,507.

LEGISLATURE SEAT WINNERS NAMED

Richard B. Russell, Jr., speaker of the lower house of the Georgia legislature, was returned to the general assembly by a substantial majority of ballots in Barrow county, according to the returns from that county.

Other returns in the numerous races for seats in the house and senate of the assembly were slowly trickling in Thursday, with the prospect that the final outcome of the legislative races would not be definitely known before Friday or Saturday. The question of a new speaker of the house, while somewhat vague at this time, appears to have been at least partially solved, according to supporters of Mr. Russell, who are confident that the incumbent speaker will be elected to indicative of Mr. Russell's reelection.

Word also was received Thursday night that E. B. Dykes, former president of the state senate, had been elected as representative to the general assembly from Dooley county. Mr. Dykes polled a total of 602 votes and his opponent, Dr. J. M. Whitehead, received 456. The former senate official is also expected to be a candidate for speaker of the lower house.

John Wesley Weekes was returned to the office. They point to the defeat of Roy V. Harris, of Jefferson county, who was regarded as one of the strongest candidate prospects for this office, as being highly indicative of the popularity of Mr. Weekes.

Murphey Succeeds Lane As C. & S. Bank President

WILLIAM MURPHEY

Election of William Murphey, president of the Citizens and Southern bank, to the presidency of the Citizens and Southern National bank, to succeed Mills B. Lane, was announced Thursday in news dispatches from Savannah, the home office of the bank.

Mr. Murphey's elevation to the presidency of the bank followed the refusal of Mills B. Lane to be reelected, it was said. The latter has been with the bank since 1891, when it was less than three years old, and its capital stock has been increased since that time from $200,000 to $4,000,000, the present figure. Mr. Murphey, the new president, has been intimately associated with Mills B. Lane for nearly 20 years and has participated in all of the bank's extensions, thereby being quite familiar with its operation, according to a statement given out by Mr. Lane in Savannah.

Mr. Murphey inaugurated the trust and investment department of the bank, and the investment department grew so large that the bank was forced to divide the business, the result being the organization of the C. & S. company, to which Mr. Murphey was elected president. He has been its only president.

Lane Named Chairman.
Mills B. Lane was elected to the office of chairman of the board, which was created at his request, according to advices from Savannah. Mr. Murphey will continue to serve as president of the Citizens and Southern bank, and later to Alexander R. Lawton, vice president of the railroad.

On June 15, 1911, Mr. Murphey became secretary to Mills B. Lane, and from that time his advancement was rapid; his first promotion was that of assistant to the president on November 22, 1916, and in 1927 the bond department was started under his supervision. He was elected vice president and director on November 20, 1928. The Citizens and Southern company was chartered July 15, 1922, to handle the bond business of the bank, and Mr. Murphey was elected president, retaining his position as vice president and director of the bank. Mr. Lane was elected chairman of the board of the Citizens and

Southern company and will retain this office.
Mr. Lane is the only living man who has been associated as officer or employee with the bank since it was organized.

The Citizens and Southern National bank has its home office in Savannah, where there are two offices. Other branches of the bank are in Atlanta, where there are four offices; Charleston, S. C., where there are two offices; Augusta, Athens, Macon and Valdosta. The Citizens and Southern company has offices in the same cities, and, in addition, has an office in Columbus.

FRIENDLY SCUFFLE RESULTS IN SERIOUS WOUND FOR YOUTH

A wound said by doctors to have been one of the strangest on record at Grady hospital was received late Thursday afternoon by A. H. Myrick, 24, of 514 Edgewood avenue, in what the injured man described as a friendly scuffle. The wound was made by a knife which passed nearly through his abdomen but did not pierce the intestines in a single place, it was shown by x-ray photographs made at the hospital.

RIVERS PLEDGES AID TO HARDMAN

Pledging all his services toward making Governor L. G. Hardman's second administration successful and expressing the deepest appreciation of the efforts of his friends in his behalf, State Senator E. D. Rivers, defeated by Hardman in the primary Wednesday, issued a statement Thursday in which he congratulated his opponent over his victory.

Senator Rivers thanked particularly Roy V. Harris, of Jefferson county, manager of his campaign.

The statement follows: "Bowling in humble submission to the results of the primary, I sincerely thank my friends and supporters for their efforts in the campaign. I will always gratefully remember the loyal and unstinted support of those thousands of Georgians who aligned themselves under my banner, and while I may never be able to fully reciprocate their splendid service I will ever be found trying to do so. These friends and their efforts for me will continue a constant inspiration, impelling renewed zeal in my service to the state, whether in private life or public trust.

"Never did a candidate for governor have a more unselfish, loyal and efficient manager than my friend, Hon. Roy V. Harris, who battled night and day in this campaign without regard to his health, his finances or his personal politics. So devoted has he been to the cause that he refused to leave the headquarters until the last vote was cast over the state and the results known, even in the interest of his own race in his home county which he lost by 33 votes through his self-sacrifice in my campaign, although his county favored me with a majority. I want all my friends to know of the sacrificial service of Roy Harris and along with me to evidence our gratitude to him in the same wholehearted manner every time the occasion permits or we can make an opportunity to do so.

"Telegrams have flooded headquarters this morning from people who state they did not support me but commended the high plane and the aggressive but dignified manner which has characterized my campaign fight. I wish to publicly acknowledge my appreciation for this attitude and the spirit which prompts such expressions.

"We are so utterly swamped with mail and telegrams of various nature until it is impossible to make a personal reply thereto and I wish this statement to be accepted in lieu thereof.

"Congratulations to my opponent can best be expressed by the public pledge I hereby make to render all the service possible towards helping his administration accomplish any constructive program it may undertake for the welfare and progress of the state.

"E. D. RIVERS."

DARING AERIAL STUNT IS PLANNED FOR FAIR

Efforts are being made by officials of the Southeastern Fair association to secure one of the most thrilling and daring aeronautical acts ever presented in the southern states as a feature attraction for the 1928 fair, according to Oscar Mills, secretary and manager. The event will be held during the week of September 29 through October 6.

The act, which has been declared one of the most unusual air performances in existence, is a bursting bomb and triple parachute drop from a balloon at a high altitude. The parachute artist, concealed in a large bomb, ascends under the balloon and the bomb bursts, giving off a beautiful array of daylight fireworks and permitting the parachute jumper to drop to earth. After descending a certain distance by means of one silken umbrella, the parachute jumper cuts loose and descends to the earth in two other stages, with two parachutes. The parachutes are red, white and blue.

Mr. Mills stated Thursday that it is not certain that the act will be presented here, but that every effort will be made to book it. The Jewell Brothers, of Philadelphia, Pa., are in charge of the act, and in a recent letter stated that several other fairs are attempting to reserve the act. Efforts are being made to change some of the other bookings in order for the act to appear here during fair week.

SALVATION ARMY BAND WILL GIVE FOUR CONCERTS

Four concerts during the next six weeks have been scheduled by the Salvation Army staff band to follow its opening appearance of the season at the public welcome to new Salvation Army cadets in training college here Sunday night.

The schedule as announced by Lieutenant Colonel Walter P. Jones, territorial field secretary, Thursday includes St. Paul's Methodist church on the night of Tuesday, September 25; Avondale on the night of Friday, September 28; LaGrange Saturday and Sunday, September 29-30; Wesley Memorial church, on the night of Tuesday, October 2.

The brass quartet from the band, which played last Sunday at the James L. Key and James L. Mayson Bible classes, will play for the Alpha class at Wesley Memorial church, October 14.

WORK ON BEACONS CAUSES CHANGE IN MAIL SCHEDULE

The schedule of the air mail from New Orleans to Atlanta has been advanced one hour because of the fact that the contractors who are putting in beacon lights between Selma, Ala., and Atlanta have not completed their work. It was announced Thursday by W. E. Beach, local representative of the St. Tammany-Gulf Coastal Airways.

A press dispatch from Washington to the effect that the schedule was advanced because of inadequate lighting facilities at Atlanta was incorrect, as Atlanta has one of the finest airport lighting systems in the country, Beach pointed out. The plane from New Orleans will arrive at 5:30 o'clock instead of 6:30 o'clock.

T. WILLIAMS PLEADED AT HARDMAN VICTORY

T. Williams, local attorney, Thursday expressed himself as being more than pleased at Governor Hardman's large majority in the primary Wednesday. Mr. Williams, during the latter part of the campaign, he said, delivered a number of addresses backing the executive for a second term in various parts of the state.

ROBERT WILLIAMS SEASON OF STOCK HERE ABANDONED

A season of stock productions in Atlanta, which was to have been opened on September 24 by the Robert Williams Players, has been abandoned, according to S. L. Hurt, owner of the Atlanta theater, where the performances were to have been given. Money which had paid in for advance tickets is being refunded, it was stated.

The death of Rex Cherryman, New York actor, is given by Mr. Hurt as the indirect reason for the cancellation. Both Mr. Cherryman and Mr. Williams were playing in "The Trial of Mary Dugan," and the latter was to have been released from his contract in time for the opening here. The actor's death necessitated a change of plans, however, and Mr. Williams now will be held to his contract, it was said.

The company headed by Mr. Williams played a season of five weeks at the Atlanta last spring, after closing at the Erlanger.

LOYAL DEMOCRATIC DELEGATES URGED FOR CONVENTION

G. E. Maddox, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, declared Thursday that only loyal democrats who have announced their allegiance to the democratic party in state and national politics should be named to the state democratic convention to be held in Macon in October.

This meeting will be one of the most important held by the party in a quarter of a century, according to Mr. Maddox, who said county executive committees should use the greatest care in selecting the delegates to the convention.

THE HIGHWAY REFERENDUM.

The overwhelming renomination of Governor Hardman is not only an endorsement of his determination to reorganize the highway administration in Georgia, and change the existing system by substituting business for politics, but it is a stinging repudiation of the senate bloc that obstructed his plans to this end in 1927.

In his campaign he took the senate's defiance direct to the people. It was the outstanding issue of the campaign.

The people answered him in a voice so unmistakable that it echoed from the mountains to the sea.

Early in the campaign the governor showed by the official figures of the state auditor that instead of Georgia having a bonded indebtedness of less than $5,000,000, the highway department had incurred an obligation of approximately $30,000,000, of which more than $20,000,000 had been provided the department by counties that had bonded themselves on the ad valorem basis, many of them becoming impoverished by doing so.

He showed by official figures that the highway department had spent more than $65,000,000 since January 1, 1920, and that there was not a connectedly paved road through the state today, except the short road known as the "Coastal" traversing only six counties, and which was built largely by funds secured by a zone bond issue which is not included in the state's obligation to counties.

He charged gross and inexcusable waste of the highway funds in the department's administration, and quoted the state auditor's figures as to the misuse of funds in automobile equipment, costs of maintenance, and the unthinkable situation as to the tax upon the funds from the constant exchanges for new machines, many of these being assigned to the private uses of office clerks, and others who had no legitimate business with them.

He showed that a system of highway construction had been in operation, first under the prison commission, for almost twelve years, and that counting the private construction by counties as in Fulton, fully $100,000,000 gross had been spent for building and maintaining highways on the state's official system with no across-the-state highway to show for it.

With these startling disclosures he took emphatic position for the elimination of the county unit plan, and the county assessment plan, which combine to create the present untenable checker-board system, with over 60 counties thus forever eliminated from highway consideration.

He was equally as emphatic in demand for a change in the system of financing, declaring that upon a reorganization of the highway administrative system to a business basis he would be willing to submit to the people a state bond issue to complete a county seat to county seat system of permanently paved highways at the earliest possible moment.

In practically every statement issued by Governor Hardman these facts, figures, conditions and policies were stressed, along with the facts of the boastful defiance of a bloc in the last senate that sought to perpetuate the present highway administrative system.

The vote of Wednesday, in the overwhelming victory of the governor, is an endorsement of his position by the people, so emphatic that it cannot be misunderstood.

In the 1929 assembly it is reasonably to be expected that the expression of the people at the polls will be quickly and definitely ratified.

AN OBVIOUS MORAL.

The attempt to wreck the democratic party in Georgia by insurrectionists within its ranks was dealt a decisive blow in Wednesday's primary.

Even the boldest of the whispering character assassins who are trying to mobilize religious prejudice and ignorance in order to cause a sufficient defection to throw the state in the Hoover column, cannot fail to see the point.

The test was made in the fifth congressional district when W. D. Upshaw, who had been honored by the democratic party to four terms in congress, led the mineuters with the assistance of an army of speakers, men and women, many of them using pulpits for their forums.

Congressman L. J. Steele, from whom Upshaw attempted to regain his former seat, opened his campaign with the frank and emphatic statement that he was a 100 per cent supporter of the nominees of the Houston convention.

Upshaw made his fight as a "Hoover democrat," waging a bitterly vicious campaign against Governor Smith, the party nominee for president.

The insurrection leader was snowed under with only two county votes of the eighteen in the district to his credit.

Thus is impressed a lesson, the moral of which is obvious.

SMITH NAILS A LIE.

Slander whispers who are reckless with gossipy tongues could learn a worth-while lesson by looking into the judicious manner in which Governor Smith proved as a lie out of the whole cloth the statement that the governor, speaking from a box at the Syracuse fair, had been intoxicated.

One woman apparently told another woman, who now denies even being present at the fair, and the second woman told another, and like the endless chain of scandal peddling, the lie was spread by antagonists of the democratic candidate. It has been whispered all over Georgia by so-called "Hoover democrats," and possibly by others.

At any rate the lie has been nailed in the direct, definite, decisive and courageous way in which Governor Smith meets every issue, nailed with documentary proof, even from the republican chairman of the reception committee who sat with him, and from the statement of the woman alleged to have originated the fabrication, that there was not one iota of truth in the statement.

In the documentary evidence submitted to the press of the nation there is no deletion of names.

It is a serious thing to whisper scandal, even if based on facts. It is a dangerous and vicious thing to whisper it when false.

Smith's position on the prohibition question follows the thought of Artemus Ward who demanded a statesman who would rise up to the emergency "and cave in the emergency's head."

A California firm is marketing a patent medicine with 32 per cent alcoholic content which has been permitted by the federal board to be sold as a medicine only. The firm will thrive on ill-gotten gains.

Mr. Hoover doled out the sugar during the war but we are not obliged to take his taffy now.

An Atlanta pharmacy was held up. The eggs must have mistaken it for a filling station.

The average man wonders what a newspaper fills up its columns with between campaigns.

They call it a state primary because one has to be schooled in politics to make the grade.

Both parties are making a bid for the woman vote but it is hard to tell how the tied will turn.

Hoover asks us to look pleasant during the campaign. Well, aren't we smiling over the dry humor.

Marriage makes man and woman until they go to the polls.

The Prince of Wales has landed on African soil, but by steamship.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Incident

A young gendarme was passing a gate which closes a court in Montmartre when his attention was drawn by a large crowd. In the center of the crowd was a young lion led by an animal trainer, Mme. Sarah Carvin, who lives in the court with her husband. The gendarme, on seeing the lion, had refused to open the gate, saying that the animal trainers are not allowed to pass. His duty was to enforce the law, and he could not consent to any additions to the menagerie. The policeman looked up his book of regulations and found that, though the law forbids the raising of lions without permission of pigs, cattle, goats, rabbits or pigeons, it makes no reference to lions. Mme. Carvin was therefore within her rights, he concluded, in demanding the admission of the young lion. The policeman's decision was, however, not accepted as final. And so a messenger was dispatched to the commissary of police. This gentleman, in gold brocade, arrived on the spot when the streets around had become totally impassable for several blocks. His suggestion was that the young lion be temporarily lodged in the police station. This Madame Carvin refused. She said: "Do you think I will allow this noble creature to be locked up with thieves and vagabonds? The commissary has suggested that I should listen to suggestions from bystanders. At this moment the young lion, hearing the roars of the lions in the court, answered them by howls and then lay on the pavement and cried so plaintively that the crowd grew restless and began to throw stones at the commissary. 'Mon dieu, he weeps,' said Madame Carvin, 'but I have no doubt that the young lion is weeping because he is so lonely. He has been in the direction of the commissary when he relented and finally opened the gate.'

Flying Fools.

Thomas Mann, one of the leading men of letters in Germany, is the subject of a controversy, pursued by all the intellectual circles of the country. In private letters he has been called a "flying fool," the expression which has aroused all the rumpus. This was the same saying that aroused some in America when applied to Lindbergh in Paris. But Kipling once went further when he referred to sportsmen as "middle-aged flying fools." And the latter instance "fool" has an entirely different meaning than the French word "fou" in "fou volant."

Shirt Sleeve Battle.

Having done their duty in the battle of grain, the battle of the lira, and minor conflicts which the fascist regime has undertaken and won, the Italian citizens, or the Italian people, is now fighting on his own account the battle of shirt sleeves, says a report to the Associated Press. No one is to be seen without a shirt sleeve. The shirt sleeve is the symbol of the fascist regime, and the shirt sleeve is the symbol of the fascist regime.

ANTI-WAR TREATY SEEN AS A PRIMER BY NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER, College Professor.

(Nicholas Murray Butler was born at Elizabeth, N. J., April 2, 1862. He received his education at Columbia University and later studied in Berlin and Paris. He holds 20 honorary degrees from American and European universities. He began his career as an assistant secretary of the United States in 1885, and became president of Columbia University in 1900. He has since held many other positions of prominence. His home is in New York City.)

The signing of the treaty renouncing war, recently signed at Paris, is an example of the tendency toward international cooperation and international association, which is the fourth of the moving forces which are making history in our time. The other three are: the growth of democracy, the growth of science, and the growth of industry.

The fourth of these moving forces, the tendency toward international cooperation, has grown rapidly in power and influence. This movement has its beginning, for all practical purposes, in the congress of Vienna, and the treaties of Chaumont, Paris and Vienna, which proclaimed the close of the Napoleonic wars. The congress of Berlin in 1878 marked the progress of the movement.

The first peace conference at The Hague, called by the czar and his ministry in 1899 by an invitation to the nations, which is now in conception as well as truly prophetic, marked the next long step forward. Out of its labors came the most useful permanent court of arbitration. Then followed the second peace conference at The Hague in 1907, when, after effective American participation, the plan for a permanent court of international justice was agreed to in all respects save as to the methods of selecting the judges.

The great war converted even the most skeptical of statesmen and philosophers to the absolute necessity of preventing its repetition. As a result we have the League of Nations with its already impressive record of achievement, the mere existence of which has altered the whole point of view of the peoples of Europe.

We have also the permanent court of international justice at The Hague. Finally, we have the epoch-making treaty recently signed at Paris which

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK

Hollywood, Calif., September 13.—(Special).—Gilbert Adrian was designing a gown for that languid Greta Garbo who seems to have convinced a large portion of the public that she has a patent on "it."

So I asked a few impertinent questions regarding the lady. And her reply was: "I was wondering how the last Scandinavian was ever transformed into a British type of beauty. The artist tells me Garbo is a great actress whose mind is roused by her emotional and dramatic force. Not by her physical appearance."

Chic, it seems, is a state of mind. And the woman who is chic all her time is most likely to be chic before a camera. Garbo, for all her acting force and tremendous tidal pull for men and women alike, is not so chic away from the pictures.

Allen Pringle has an intuitive flair for smartness. She slid into a white velvet wrap heavy with brilliant. Had her gleaming dark hair curled up on her cheeks like shining curls. Flashed her humorous eyes about the room.

No Joseph Hergesheimer, Henry Mencken and the other literary who come Hollywood spend their spare time in the Pringle salon. She is the brain trust of the movieland.

Milt Gross doesn't confine all his exaggations to the dumb waiter. He tried to answer them in the hall. Backed out of his garage with a whoosh! Took off the rear porch of his Hollywood home. Got a bit with the conceit. "Mon dieu, he weeps," said Madame Carvin, "but I have no doubt that the young lion is weeping because he is so lonely. He has been in the direction of the commissary when he relented and finally opened the gate."

The studio sent a bus over for him. One thousand extras upholding in the hallways a line of veterans of the seventeenth century stood in the hallways from 7:30 a. m. until sundown, making one of the big shots for Douglas Fairbanks' next picture.

"Doug" himself was here, there and everywhere. A bit warm looking in brown velvet buttoned up to the throat, in approved swash-buckling.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS BY DR. S. PARKES CADMAN

Providence, R. I. What can the church do to better their prospects? Notwithstanding our defense of Protestantism, both it and Catholicism are not so well liked by the people. Is not this a serious situation for religion?

Yes and no. Affirmatively, the church of 87 per cent of the people approached this question as published in 200 daily newspapers are "sold" to the religion the churches offer, but not to the churches themselves. It is ominous enough. Nor will those who know our cities and churches be inclined to go behind the rumors.

What you say about motherhood only confirms my judgment that it is the crown of womanhood and of human life. Nature, religion, experience, all unite to glorify it. Its supremacy. Nor can this be even touched by washful flings against the modern woman's possessions.

Of course, there are "hundreds of things that a fine woman can give to the community." But she surpasses them when she gives it. It is the world a Christ or a St. Paul. Every mother is of the infinite, despite the risks of her glorious adventure.

Washington, D. C. I am 59 and have excellent health and only one tie, an aged mother. I wish to devote my entire life to making her comfortable and happy while she is here, which fortunately I am able to do because I have inherited a fortune of $200,000.

My problem is a very pleasant one, although somewhat serious, and it is simply this: How on my death shall I leave the most good?

The lines have fallen to you in pleasant places and your mother's companionship is a priceless possession. Naturally, you want your testamentary gifts to express your love and to be of service to the community. You are now interested in which you accomplish the good you would attempt were you still living.

Such enterprises as education, literature, art, medicine, science, literature, dramatics, the care of orphans or the aged and the maintenance of organizations devoted to the service of youth, of derelicts and of the helpless. All have urgent needs deserving their multiple and their publicity embarras choice. So select those which appeal to you, examine their claims, consult a competent lawyer and take pains to safeguard your endowments from legal controversy or any other misdirections.

Why No Clippings. I have no wish to send you a clipping of your own material in lieu of my request for something, which I wish you would send me to explain why you object to clippings so seriously. (Mrs. Duff F. C.)

First, because it wastes my time. Second, because often the clipping does not apply. Third, because the clipping is lost. Fourth, because correspondents who resort to that method of communicating requests often take something from another column and it is meaningless to me.

Will You Sacrifice Health. Can you tell me of anything that will reduce excess weight rapidly even though it is injurious to health? Is—used for that purpose? (Miss D. P.)

Answer—The drug you mention is sometimes used in a reduction regimen, but it is dangerous for anyone without medical training to use. I can give you no advice about reduction, unless I am first convinced that you should reduce. In my judgment, no one under 19 years of age may safely attempt reduction, except by diet and exercise. Readers seeking my advice about reduction should not fail to give height and weight, and if two lounges in the lobby, although the Hotel Pennsylvania is a conspicuous landmark, most of the seats have been taken out of the Long Island railroad station, from which nearly 500,000 persons arrive and depart daily.

FINAL VOTE SHOWS HUGE STEELE LEAD

Complete official returns from the five counties comprising the fifth Georgia congressional district Thursday revealed that Representative Leslie J. Steele, of Decatur, was renominated as congressman over former Representative William D. Upshaw-Smith candidate, by a majority of 4,495.

Steele, who ran as a loyal party supporter of the candidacy of Governor Smith of New York, polled a grand popular total of 15,945 votes in the district, as compared with 9,472 for the former prohibitionist congressman. Out of the 18 counties which voted in the district Steele was given 16 while Upshaw got only two—those of Douglas county, his former residence, which he carried by a vote of 665 to 537.

By counties the popular vote, with the unit vote, was as follows: Fulton county, 6 unit votes, Steele 7,846; Upshaw 5,846; DeKalb, 6 unit votes, Steele 4,076; Upshaw 2,322; Campbell, 2 unit votes, Steele 637; Upshaw 362; Rockdale, 2 unit votes, Steele 819; Upshaw 317; Douglas, 2 unit votes, Upshaw 665; Steele 537.

Decatur friends of Congressman Steele, composed the leading business and professional men of the city.

Steele gave a surprise dinner in his honor at the Hotel Candler Thursday noon. Among those present were the city and county officers and Solicitor Claude C. Smith and Judge John B. Hutcheson, of the Stone Mountain circuit.

Dr. W. S. Elkin, Jr., acted as toastmaster of the occasion, and opened with a glowing tribute to the congressman and gave expression of the pleasure his home town felt in his reelection.

Other speakers who praised Mr. Steele's record as a man and in public service were: John B. Hutcheson, judge of superior court; Claude C. Smith, solicitor; W. H. Bond and Homer H. Howard, tax commissioners of DeKalb county; Robert Ramspeck, Tucker Griffin, J. Howell Green, president Decatur Bank & Trust Co., and L. F. Burgess, clerk of the superior court.

Mr. Steele in his response expressed his gratitude for the confidence the people had bestowed upon him, and stated that he was deeply touched by this expression of esteem and love by his own people.

Mr. Steele stated that he had run this race as a supporter of the democratic party, and that he had and would give the national ticket his wholehearted support. He further pledged to dedicate himself for the next two years to the service of his district, his state and nation and would at all times endeavor to look after their interests.

Concerning the prohibition law he stated that he was now in favor of the eighteenth amendment to the constitution and that he would at all times regard the views or recommendations of the next president uphold and defend it.

Among those attending the dinner were the following: Robert Ingram, Judge Guest, W. S. Elkin, Jr., F. E. Cogler, Leon O'Neal, George Wondra, John Wesley Weekes, W. C. McLean, Hugh Burgess, H. H. ## FOWLER RENOMINATED TO GEORGIA ASSEMBLY

Georgia political leaders in Atlanta Thursday expressed pleasure over the news from Douglas county that Representative Alpha A. Fowler of that county was reelected to his seat in the house of representatives of the Georgia assembly.

Representative Fowler lives in Douglas county, but operates several business enterprises in Atlanta, among them being the Empire theater, West End theater, the Douglas theater, and several other neighborhood houses. He won out over W. J. Davis, who opposed him for reelection.

Although serving his first term in the legislature at its session last summer, Representative Fowler became one of the most popular members of the house, was named on some of the biggest committees in the house, and won approval for his general good work at committee sessions. Some of the most beneficial legislation passed by the assembly can be traced directly to Representative Fowler's work in committees and on the other hand he succeeded in defeating several bills which were designed to increase taxes on lands through indirect methods.

Through his reelection Representative Fowler will now be in a position to be of greater service than ever to his constituents, according to the friends who congratulated him on his victory. He is in line for several important committee appointments and has been mentioned for the place of speaker pro tem, of the house and also as a possible chairman of the house rules committee, one of the most important committees in that body.

ATLANTA LAWYERS TO HEAR MIKELL AT MEETING TODAY

The Right Reverend H. J. Mikell, bishop of the Episcopal diocese here, will deliver the principal address at the September meeting of the Lawyers club, of Atlanta, to be held at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Henry Grady hotel. ## INCUMBENTS WIN IN DEKALB VOTE

Decatur, Ga., September 13.—(Special.)—Incumbents of DeKalb county running for renomination in the primary Wednesday were decisively favored by voters, who, with one exception, returned all present officeholders. That exception was the defeat by Hooper Alexander of Representative Paul Lindsey, veteran legislator from DeKalb.

Probably of highest local interest to the citizens of this county—aside from the gubernatorial and congressional contests—were the races for judge of the Stone Mountain judicial circuit, sheriff and solicitor-general of the circuit, in all of which the present officeholders were renominated. Judge John B. Hutcheson was given a good majority in every county in the circuit, and defeated James C. Davis, his opponent, by a popular vote of 7,509 to 4,428. The race between Solicitor Claude C. Smith and Young H. Fraser ran much closer, the incumbent winning three of the five counties by a popular vote of 5,964 to Mr. Fraser's 5,678. Mr. Fraser carried Clayton and Rockdale counties by substantial margins.

J. R. "Jake" Hall, popular sheriff of DeKalb, won easily over his two opponents, amassing a majority over both candidates, W. H. Braswell and O. L. White. Sheriff Hall previously had been elected for the short term remaining after the death of Sheriff J. A. McCurdy several months ago. Mr. Hall received 5,433 votes against 2,414 for White and 562 for Braswell.

In the race for clerk of the superior court B. H. Burgess won from C. H. Talley by a tremendous majority receiving 4,729 votes, against 1,688 for his opponent.

W. H. Bond, incumbent tax commissioner, won a decisive victory over his opponent, A. G. Barnett, receiving 4,654 to 2,356, the aspirant.

M. F. Mable was renominated county surveyor over E. W. Weir. The vote was 3,796 to 2,889.

V. S. Morgan, ordinary, defeated Homer George for the office by a poll of 3,633 to 2,671.

MARION STEVENS, 13, NATIVE OF ATLANTA, SUCCUMBS IN TEXAS

Marion Gordon Stevens, son of M. F. Stevens, Western Union agent at Fort Stockton, Texas, died September 1 as the result of an operation for removal of his tonsils, according to advices received by friends and relatives in Georgia. Young Stevens was born in Atlanta on September 22, 1915.

One of the most touching incidents in connection with the boy's death was that his dog, Bulger, followed him to the hospital, and, to be as near as possible to his little master, stationed himself near an open window where he could observe what went on. Just as the physicians were ready to begin the operation Bulger set up such a pitiful and mournful wail that the physicians hesitated for a moment and almost wavered in their decision to operate. "Buster," as the boy was known, was a loyal little worker in the Sunday school, the Epworth league and the Methodist church.

The operation was said to have been a precautionary measure rather than one of immediate necessity and the lad faced it with the utmost of cheerfulness, it was said.

Need a new golf stick? Let your tooth paste pay for it

There are a number of articles you can buy with the money you save by using Listerine Tooth Paste at 25¢ instead of 50¢ dentifrices that accomplish no more. A golf stick for example, or hotery or razor blades. The average saving is $3 per year per person. Think how that multiplies when the family is large!

A dentifrice as good as its name— and costing but 25¢

THERE are many excellent dentifrices on the market selling at a trifle above or below 50¢—but is it necessary to pay that much? Why not a first class dentifrice at 25¢—scientifically correct for all types of teeth?

Believing this to be a sound price, we created Listerine Tooth Paste at 25¢ for a large tube. It is the result of more than fifty years' study of tooth and mouth troubles. Now it is sweeping the country. Everywhere it is supplanting older and costlier dentifrices that accomplish no more.

Due to the presence of an amazing new and gentle polishing agent, it keeps teeth gleaming white with almost no brushing. Included in it are certain ingredients we have found most ideal in keeping the mouth and gums fresh and healthy.

We ask you to try this paste not only for the marked saving (quite substantial in a large family) but for its delightful and speedy cleansing. Get a tube at your druggist today. Try it for a month. See how it makes teeth gleam. Note how good your mouth feels after using it. Compare it with any paste you have ever used and judge by results alone. And then reflect that these results are costing you about half of what you would ordinarily pay. Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

MELLON REPORTS BUSINESS SOUND

Washington, September 13.—(AP)—Secretary Mellon has given to President Coolidge a report that business is in a satisfactory condition and on a sound basis.

The secretary holds that while taking the country as a whole conditions are good, there are "spots" in the general industry which are suffering through natural causes.

In the coal industry he holds that economies in the use of coal and too large a number of mines were largely responsible for a slump, but that the slump has reached its bottom and conditions will improve from now on.

In the textile industry, the secretary holds over-stimulation during the war was causing a reaction. The industry also, he declares, was feeling the effect of the manufacture of artificial fabrics, which to some extent were closing some branches of the market to the textile manufacturers.

"There is nothing unfavorable in prospect for the farmers," the secretary said today. "The year 1928 should be a good one for agriculture. Of course there are farmers who never make a profit and others who make money every year."

"I cannot foresee the effect of the many economic laws of the world but at present there is certainly no cause for worry."

Secretary Mellon does not hold that the high money rate has affected business. He said that business men rarely had to pay the peak prices for money but generally obtained the over counter rate which is lower. He believes, however, that if the high rates continue too long it might have some effect on business.

GOVERNOR PLANS TO LEAVE TODAY ON HIS VACATION

Governor L. G. Hardman, after the transaction of some pressing business in his office, will leave Friday for a two weeks vacation to be spent in the Georgia mountains, he announced Thursday.

The governor was busy receiving telegrams and messages of congratulation Thursday. He expressed pleasure over his victory and renewed his statement of thanks and appreciation to those who supported him.

The governor will be absent next week when the final appeal of Eula Thompson, condemned to die in the electric chair, is scheduled to be presented to him. The state prison commission Thursday will hear an appeal for clemency for the woman convicted of murder in Murray county.

The absence of the governor would have no legal effect on the sentenced imposed on Mrs. Thompson, it was explained. Her lawyers can carry a plea to the governor at the place where he is spending his vacation, it was pointed out.

First Election Information In Constitution

Definite and accurate information on the statewide primary elections Wednesday was given first by The Constitution as usual. The early edition on the street in Atlanta at 7 o'clock Wednesday night forecast authoritatively and accurately the indications from all sections the manner in which Governor Hardman swept the state in his race for renomination against State Senator E. D. Rivers.

These indications, printed long before the counties and precincts could give even a partial count on the race, were received as the result of a system by which The Constitution for a quarter of a century has accurately indicated the results of all statewide elections with not a failure.

Later in the night The Constitution gathered its figures for the tabulation of the results in the statewide races from every part of Georgia through a battery of Southern Bell long distance telephone operators and supervisors. In addition to the long distance telephone lines used, the Associated Press and the local staff of The Constitution made the tabulation accurate and showed the result of every important race.

The use of hundreds of long distance telephone wires kept The Constitution in touch with all sections of the state and speeded up the compilation of the results which were printed Thursday morning.

FORD TO EXPLAIN PERKERSON PARK DEAL ON STUMP

Charles M. Ford, former councilman from the tenth ward, Thursday declared he would take the stump and tell the people of Atlanta of his connection with the purchase of the $410,000 Perkeron tract after the Fulton county grand jury and the Georgia Real Estate commission complete their respective probes of the transaction.

"I have stated on a number of occasions that I am sincere in my belief that I committed no wrong, and I reiterate I will take the stump and explain to the people of Atlanta my connection with the deal," Mr. Ford stated.

Mr. Ford resigned from council following a lengthy investigation of the purchase, which resulted in the special investigation committee recommending that impeachment proceedings be instituted against him. He preferred to fight it out as a "private citizen and to prevent embarrassment of my friends in council," he stated at the time he offered the resignation. It was accepted by unanimous vote.

The real estate commission will begin its probe September 27.

PLUMBERS NOT GUILTY IN "FIXING," SAYS LOFTIS

The statement which Mr. Loftis did make was that he "had been approached by certain parties in an effort to fix bids."

Home Is Sought As Little Betty Learns To Talk

A miracle of human development that was described as characteristic of the "constructive philanthropy" of the Atlanta Community Chest was related Thursday in a report by Miss Emma Hardcastle, superintendent of the Georgia Children's Home society, one of the Chest agencies, on "the case of Betty."

Crushed by the depression of a Georgia county poor farm on which she was born, the child named Betty was entered in the receiving home of the Georgia Children's Home society, at Ormewood court, unable to speak, although three years old.

"Anathetic, dull of eye, lacking the activity and curiosity of normal babyhood, Betty was a problem," said Miss Hardcastle. "In the course of the society's routine of developing its wards for fitness, physically, mentally, and morally, to be received in foster homes, the speechless little girl was placed in the care of physicians and helped to better health."

"With health came awakened interest and curiosity and the need of play, something strange to her, with other children. First she would stand timidly on the edge of scurrying groups, silent and wistful. Then suddenly the matron came upon her, holding fast to a doll with both hands to defend it from a boy who would take it from her, and shouting 'Mine, mine!'

"They were her first words, and since that moment she has talked—unintelligibly sometimes, but in a ceaseless chatter—as if to make up for the last years. Now we are hoping that a home to which she is entitled will be open to her by adoption."

Miss Hardcastle said the work of the society, which is concerned with finding homes for neglected, orphaned, abandoned, and underprivileged children, has been marked recently by numerous cases of development as distinct as Betty's, of children who without such help would have drifted into social disaster.

In reporting a death in the Thursday morning issue of The Constitution the name of Mrs. Julia K. Ennis, of 1002 Juniper street, was used in error as a result of misinformation furnished the paper.

Mrs. Ennis Thursday personally notified The Constitution that she is alive and well and asked that the impression created by the article be corrected for the benefit of her many friends and relatives throughout north Georgia.

Mrs. Ennis moved to Atlanta three years ago from Rome and is the divorced wife of W. H. Ennis, of that city. Mr. Ennis is prominent politically in Rome and served several terms in the state legislature. The family is well known in a score of Georgia towns and cities.

RADIO NOT TAKING PART IN POLITICS

BY MARTIN CODEL.

(Copyright, 1928, by the American Newspaper Editors.)

Washington, September 13.—Radio now enters politics with a vengeance. Not only is the radio to be used extensively as a vehicle of political expression but radio broadcasting as an industry is being drawn into the maelstrom of campaign partisanship.

Radio programs sponsored by the major political parties will go on the air in the coming days, beginning tomorrow night (Friday) for the Republicans and next Monday night for the Democrats. The first gun in a political battle that is brewing around the radio industry was fired today from the offices of the democratic national committee in this city which issued a statement containing some vigorous comments on the subject of the newly announced broadcast regulations.

The program part of the radio campaign is designed to gather in votes, and neither party has met many difficulties in contracting for time on either the networks or individual stations. The effort to draw radio into the campaign phase of the presidential campaign apparently is founded upon the dissatisfaction of certain independent broadcasters with the way the democratic party has handled the plan of realization ordered effective next November 11 by the federal radio commission.

"Vigorous protests that have been made by independent radio broadcast station owners, particularly in the middle west, over the new allocation of wave lengths, threaten to find their way into the political campaign," says the statement.

The statement goes on to say that so far as the republican national committee is concerned the situation is intensified by the fact that General James G. Harbord, president of the Radio Corporation of America, is now on leave of absence in order to devote all his time to raising campaign funds for the republican party.

John A. Prutz, state director of the republican party in Illinois, is quoted as saying that he could not vote for it.

SMITH DECLARES CHURCH SEPARATE

Albany, N. Y., September 13.—(United News.)—Governor Alfred E. Smith declared "separation of church and state is a fundamental American principle" in his annual message tonight to Jewish citizens, wishing them a prosperous new year.

"May the new year bring to all of us a better understanding based upon respect for our differences and the recognition of our common humanity," the democratic candidate said.

"Following my annual custom as governor, I desire with the approach of the high holy days to wish my fellow Jewish citizens a good and prosperous new year.

"The conception underlying the Jewish observance of the new year has always appealed to me. It is a day of self-examination with a view to correcting one's shortcomings in the year to come. It is not a day of carnival, but rather of the religious spirit."

"This is the spirit which animated the original settlers of our country of all denominations who came to our shores to seek freedom to worship God according to their own conscience."

"The separation of church and state is a fundamental American principle. The pursuit of virtue sanctioned by religion is at the basis of any civilized state. Because the Jewish people have a genius for religion, they have made their great contribution to civilization from which men and women of every race and creed have benefited."

JEWIS EXTENDED HAPPY NEW YEAR.
New York, September 13.—(AP)—The Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America today extended to the Jews of the world on their celebration of Rosh Hashanah a "happy new year."

This is the first time this Christian group of 29 Protestant units has recognized the Jews in this manner. The following greeting was issued through the council's committee of good will between Christians and Jews:

"We Christians extend our sincere well wishes to the Jews. As your 5,689th year opens Friday evening we hope that Christians and Jews may make this a year of increasing mutual understanding. Joined in a common enterprise, the progress of mankind, we believe we may find, our unity as we realize our interdependence. Christians appreciate your achievements in the arts, the sciences, philosophy, and in religion. In a very real sense you enrich humanity."

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman is president of the council.

DR. WIGGINS IS NAMED NEW PRESIDING ELDER
Dr. S. P. Wiggins has been appointed presiding elder of the North Atlanta district of the North Georgia conference of the Methodist Episcopal church to fill the vacancy left by the death of Dr. W. L. Pierce, it was announced Thursday. The appointment was made by Bishop W. B. Deuchamp.

Dr. Wiggins, for the time being, is to continue his duties as missionary secretary of the district as well as carry on the work of presiding elder, it was stated. Mrs. Pierce, widow of the late elder, will continue to receive her husband's salary until the next annual meeting of the conference, November 14.

Dr. Wiggins has been out of the city but is expected home today and will assume his new duties at once.

KELLEY DEFENSE ENDS IN TRIAL FOR MURDER

Los Angeles, September 13.—(AP)—Almost on the heels of a court contempt citation of a prosecutor and a district attorney's investigator for alleged intimidation of a defense witness, Leo P. Kelley last night rested his defense to charges of slaying his wealthy society matron sweetheart, Mrs. Myrtle Mellus. The case was expected to reach the jury tomorrow.

A night session of court and a ruling by Judge Fletcher Bowron cutting to a few minutes the testimony of defense medical experts, speeded up the closing of the defense.

The citation of the prosecutor, Deputy District Attorney Clifford Thoms, and his investigator, Pete Pedrotti, to show cause why they should not be held in contempt followed a reiteration of "frame up" charges made by Kelley from the witness stand. He based his accusation on the affidavit of Dr. E. T. Patee, defense alienist, previously filed in the case. Dr. Patee accused Pedrotti of calling him out of Defense Attorney S. S. Hahn's office several days ago, threatening him with the reopening of an old murder charge against him if he testified for the defense. Pedrotti, the doctor said, told him he had been sent by Thoms to deliver the threat.

The charge referred to was brought against Dr. Patee within the last year in connection with the death of a girl as a result of what was alleged to have been an illegal operation. The charge was dropped for lack of evidence. Pedrotti and Thoms were ordered to appear in court next Monday to answer the charges.

Declaring there was no question but that Mrs. Mellus' death was the result of "criminal means," Judge Bowron refused to hear evidence which the defense held indicated that "excessive use of intoxicants," sickness and fainting attacks might have been responsible.

Under cross-examination during his six hours on the witness stand yesterday, Kelley retold his version of the five-year romance between butcher boy and society matron.

Mrs. Grace Brown, a former maid in the Mellus home, was not permitted to testify for the defense.

Allegedly, called by the state in rebuttal, testified that Kelley was emotionally abnormal at the time he is accused of the slaying.

Dr. Paul Bowers, the first witness, was followed by Dr. Victor Parkin. Their testimony was adduced in an effort to show that Kelley's emotional character was such that he was guilty of mutilating the clubwoman's body after beating her to death with a bottle.

Seattle, Wash., September 13.—(AP) Though hard pressed, Representative Albert Johnson apparently had won renomination on the republican ticket as counting of Tuesday's primary ballot continued today.

veteran unreported, Johnson led 38,407 to Bone's 37,311 votes. Senator C. C. Dill, democrat, was renominated by a landslide, while Miles C. Poindexter, whom he displaced in congress six years ago and who recently was ambassador to Peru, lost the republican primary by a heavy vote to Kenneth Mackintosh, former state supreme court justice.

Being such a staple commodity, and purchased solely because of necessity, most people pay very little attention to the source of their fuel supply, and even less to the results secured from different sorts and grades.

From our many years of observation and experience as coal dealers, gleaned from actual contact with the public, we long since have realized that in order to perpetuate our business on a sound basis, we must do for our customers what they are unable, because of the lack of knowledge, or unwilling, because of the time and trouble required, to do for themselves—discriminate between the various and varying grades of coal.

As a result of this personal interest in every one of our customers, and sincere desire to merit the friendship and good-will of our patrons, we take upon ourselves the responsibility of selecting fuel that is best suited for grates, heaters and furnaces, and recommend to our trade the grade and size that will prove most satisfactory and economical for the purpose intended.

We have methods for testing fuel that are not available to the individual.

Before placing contracts with the mines, we satisfy ourselves, by careful and accurate test, that it is exactly suited to our customers' needs, and are thus in position to make recommendations based on authentic analysis.

One thing our long experience has taught us—QUALITY fuel invariably is more economical for domestic use.

We believe it is a grave mistake for consumers to permit themselves to be influenced by low price, for it unfailingly proves to be an extravagant experiment.

untarily to us year after year, is due entirely to the confidence those people have in our business integrity, and the satisfaction they obtain through the use of our fuel.

Doubtless there are many people in Atlanta, especially newcomers, who do not know of a concern with whom they may feel free to deal so implicitly in matters which they themselves are not fully informed. We solicit such patronage with assurance that they, too, may place orders with us without any after-regrets at all.

Merely tell us if it is to be used in grate, heater or furnace and we will advise you frankly the sort of fuel that will prove most satisfactory and economical for your needs.

The price, to be sure, always will be as low as can be quoted for corresponding grades by any reputable dealer.

Always a Perfect Wave

By Edna Wallace Hopper

On the stage, in public and at private functions, my hair always attracts. During my performances women never fail to ask the secret of my perfect wave and the youthful, lively sheen of my hair.

It is very simple. I wave my own hair. First I moisten it with my liquid hair-dress, Wave and Sheen. I use a comb to apply it. Then I carefully insert the comb. I tie a piece of chiffon over my head. By the time I am ready to complete my toilette the waves are in to stay.

A radiant sheen, free from stickiness, is the chief charm of this simple method. Wave and Sheen is the only preparation I know that does not give the "plastered" effect.

You can get a bottle of my Wave and Sheen at any toilet counter. It is guaranteed, 75 cents.—(adv.)

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

A FAMILY RESEMBLANCE.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Relatives are oft perplexing. And not infrequently most vexing. —Old Mother Nature.

Trader the Wood Rat had established himself comfortably in Farmer Brown's sugar-house. It was rather far north for Trader to be. It was quite by accident that he had got so far north. But he had been there for some time and he felt just as much at home there as if his family had been there before him.

Whitefoot the Wood Mouse and Mrs. Whitefoot had their home nicely established in the sugar-house. They had built it in the firebox of the evaporator. They had been greatly interested in Trader. Of course, being a rat, he was a sort of cousin.

"Do you know, Whitefoot," said Mrs. Whitefoot, "it seems to me that Cousin Trader must be quite closely related. It seems to me that he must be closer to us than any other of the rat cousins."

"Why so?" asked Whitefoot. "Have you noticed his hands and feet?" inquired Mrs. Whitefoot. "They are white," declared little Mrs. Whitefoot. "They are white just like ours."

"I hadn't thought of that," exclaimed Whitefoot. "And he has a white waistcoat, too. Now you speak of it, there is quite a strong family resemblance, the chief difference being his size. Of course, he is ever and ever so much bigger than us. Somehow, he doesn't seem to me a bit like Robber the Brown Rat."

"Who are you talking about?" demanded a voice, and there was Trader himself.

"It was just saying," said Whitefoot, "that you don't seem to me all like your cousin, Robber the Brown Rat."

"I hope I don't," declared Trader. "There is a fellow who is a disgrace to the whole family. Yes, sir, he's a disgrace! If you ask me, he's a disgrace to the whole animal world. If I thought I looked like him I never would be able to hold my head up in good company. That fellow is an outcast. He's had all through. I'm glad to hear you say that I don't look anything like him."

"We were saying," spoke up little Mrs. Whitefoot somewhat timidly, "that it seems as if you must be related to us quite closely, because you look so like us, only bigger."

Trader looked a bit puzzled. Then he happened to notice the white hands

Whitefoot chuckled. "Do you know why he sneezed?" he inquired.

And feet of Mr. and Mrs. Whitefoot and Whitefoot's white waistcoat. He grinned. "I guess you're right," said he. "I guess I do look something like a great, overgrown Wood Mouse. Well, I'm glad that we are to be neighbors and I think that we shall get along together very well. How did you happen to move in here?"

"So as to be somewhere where we would feel safe from Xowler the Bobcat," declared Whitefoot. "You know he has been killing rats now."

"So I hear, so I hear," replied Trader. "I had a very narrow escape from him the other night. If he hadn't sneezed when he did he probably would have caught me."

Whitefoot chuckled. "Do you know why he sneezed?" he inquired. "Trader shook his head. "Why?"

"Because he was angry, and he was angry because he couldn't get into this sugar-house, and all the time he knew we were in here," replied Whitefoot. "Well, that sneeze gave me warning, just in time to lodge out of sight," declared Trader. "It was then I decided to have a look at the old sugar-house with a view to living here."

"We are glad you do," cried Mrs. Whitefoot and Whitefoot together. "The next story," "Cubby Tries to Get In."

DETECTIVES DOUBT STORY OF SLAYING PITTSBURGH DOCTOR

Pittsburgh, September 13. (AP)—City detectives today said the story told by John Meckley, 36, regarding the killing of Dr. Harry R. Dapper, young Carrie physician, was not credible. Meckley, arrested as a suspect in a hold-up, told detectives and state police last night that Dapper was shot by a man who owed money to the physician. Meckley formerly was an inmate of an insane asylum.

In the more than three weeks since the slaying of Dr. Dapper, no motive for the killing has been established. The physician was shot fatally by a man who summoned him to attend his wife in an isolated district near here.

LIFE'S LITTLE TRAGEDIES

THE debutante's face was as red as the tomato bouillon on her lunch-table. Ghastly silence reigned. Every eye was riveted on the centerpiece. A roach was racing to cover the expense of white linen. The luncheon was worse than a failure; it was a disaster!

Reputations as well as appetites may be ruined by a slight suggestion of carelessness. People are known by their surroundings, their personal and household hygiene, quite as much as by the company they keep.

Agnes Lee, U. D. C., will meet at their chapter house in Decatur at 3 o'clock.

Memphis, Tenn., September 13. (AP)—A group of "dry democrats," representing 17 states, met here today and organized the national constitutional democratic committee to work against the presidential candidacy of Governor Smith, who was termed a "bolter."

"It is of the utmost importance to the life itself of our party that it be demonstrated by repudiating the brazen attempt of its present leaders to commit the party to a policy of nullifying the constitution by destroying the present law and the further attempt to put the sovereign states into the business of selling liquor," said the resolution.

"We believe that Governor Smith's defeat by an outstanding majority will serve to rebuke the unauthorized attempt to make a name out of the party and will contribute significantly to the reeducation of the party of America to the preservation of the constitution and the maintenance of the integrity of federal laws."

The D. C. Lightfoot, of Springfield, Mo., was chosen temporary chairman and R. H. Jarvis, of Morgantown, W. Va., temporary secretary. The committee purposes to function as a central organization for all democratic organizations in the various states having similar purposes.

"Governor Smith," the committee's statement said, "has conspicuously bolted the Houston democratic platform on prohibition and on immigration restriction, and by his own act has released democrats as such from any obligation to support him."

For the sake of democratic principles, which Governor Smith has abandoned and transgressed, we appeal to the millions of democrats of the nation who revere the constitution and respect the law to cooperate with us in wresting Governor Smith from the hands of Tammany hall by defeating the candidacy for president of prohibition's most dangerous ally."

John J. Raskob was termed a "wet republican" who became a "temporary democrat" to help Governor Smith nullify the nation of the damnable affliction of prohibition; and his selection as chairman of the democratic national convention is a "betrayal of the party as a whole."

Victim of Ship Blast Drifts For 12 Hours Before Rescue

PICKED UP AT SEA BY PASSING BOAT

Charleston, S. C., September 13.—(United News.)—Stories of a long search on a dark sea in answer to faint cries for help, and of the rescue of John Wolfinger, boatswain of the tanker Shreveport, which exploded off Frying Pan Shoals Wednesday, were told when the Clyde liner Mohawk anchored here today.

Wolfinger, who was listed among four missing when the explosion occurred, was found at 10:15 p. m. Wednesday clinging to floating wreckage of the damaged tanker.

The Mohawk was proceeding to Charleston about 63 miles off Frying Pan Shoals when faint cries for help were heard, Captain J. W. McKenzie of the liner said.

Captain McKenzie ordered the ship put about and a two-hour search was made of the water, using searchlights and flashlights. Finally Wolfinger was spotted, clinging to floating wreckage in an exhausted condition. He had been in the water 12 hours, he said.

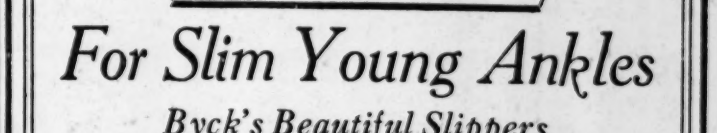

Wolfinger was rushed to a local hospital immediately after the Mohawk docked, and physicians said his condition was serious. He was too weak to describe the explosion or the incidents immediately after.

The Shreveport exploded Wednesday morning while steaming empty from Philadelphia to Texas. Four men were reported lost in the explosion, and another died en route to Southport, N. C., but the finding of Wolfinger brings the casualty list down to four.

BLASTED SHIP REPORTED FOUND. Southport, N. C., September 13.—(United News.)—The Gulf Cities Refining and Transport company's tanker Shreveport, damaged by an explosion Wednesday in which three men were killed and another fatally injured, was located today by the coast guard cutter Modoc, the local coast guard office reported.

The Shreveport was found about 35 miles south by east of Cape Fear. The body of one of those missing was found aboard the tanker, coast guard officers here said they understood. Originally four men were believed killed in the explosion, but John Wolfinger, boatswain, was picked up by the Clyde liner Mohawk late Wednesday night, it was learned today.

Coast guard officials said the Modoc reported it was towing the Shreveport to Charleston, S. C., for repairs.

A Boy You Should Know

At the meeting today these kids of the Seckatary Hawkins gang decided that now it was time for me to be initiated into the club—

They said it was all right for me to be an honorary member, but while I was there on the spot there was no reason why they could not have the fun of an initiation.

The first thing they did was to tie my hands in back of me; then Jerry Moore tickled my nose with a feather. Gosh! Well, they had to untie my hands then so I could scratch my nose, and Jerry Moore was fined a nickel because that feather stuff was his own idea and not in the regular initiation.

After my hands were tied up again I was marched up a path toward a high cliff. I wasn't worried because I knew they would not do anything to hurt me; that's why Jerry was fined that nickel. As we were going up the cliff path I asked Hawkins why I was not blindfolded—that's always done in initiations. "Oh," he said, "you won't be able to see anyway"—and he was right. At the top of the path there was a big hole; it was a cave entrance. Dick Ferris led the way with a flashlight. All the boys formed a chain in back of Dick. I was put next to last.

Down into the cave we went. Occasionally I could see a flash of Dick's light as we wound around the passages. My, it was dark. Jerry Moore was in front of me holding to my tie, Hawkins in back, pushing. Suddenly something hit me on the head and my straw hat went off. I ducked, but nothing more happened until we got to an open space. We could go no farther because of a deep chasm. Here the initiation was held. I was placed next to the brink, and in very ghastly tones someone told me that if I did not promise to play fair and square all the time with everybody I would be thrown into the pit. That was the beginning. I had plenty more initiation, which I will tell you about some time. After it was all over, I asked who took my hat. We looked everywhere.

"Come on now, you fellows," I said, "play fair and square with me; you know that one of you hit me on the head and took my hat, back there in the narrow passage."

"Listen here, Mister," said Dick Ferris, "none of us fellows would hit you unless it was fair and square, in a regular fight."

Hawkins then stepped up and said, "I been thinking about this thing, and I think I know what happened! Follow me and tell me where you were when you got hit."

We had a hard time finding the exact place, but we did, and there was my straw hat stuck up between some stalactites. My head just grazed them, but my hat stuck; it stuck because the top and sides were crushed between the rocky projections from the roof.

My initiation cost me a hat, but it was worth it. I now am a regular member of "the Seckatary Hawkins Club," and I have taken "Fair and Square" for my motto.

If you want to do the same thing, join the club. Watch for more details tomorrow.

District Attorney Clint W. Hager confirmed news of Johnson's arrest in Chicago, and said that the indictment against the defendant was returned on charges that Johnson, with a wife living in Chicago, had conspired to defraud a married woman and carried her from this city to Annapolis, Md. The alleged victim will be available for Johnson's trial here, Hager said.

Chicago, September 13. (AP)—Harry W. Johnson, indicted nine years ago in Atlanta for violation of the Mann act, was taken into custody here today and is held under $5,000 bond for hearing September 20 on a petition which would remove him to the Georgia capital for trial.

Johnson has twice forfeited bond since his indictment October 12, 1919, on charges of transporting a woman from Atlanta to Annapolis, Ala. He fled to Canada after being arrested in California and was protected there by a change of transportation a woman named Johnson, with a wife living in Chicago, had conspired to defraud a married woman and carried her from this city to Annapolis, Md. The alleged victim will be available for Johnson's trial here, Hager said.

Washington, September 13. (AP)—The navy department today announced that it had awarded a contract to J. A. Jones, of Charlotte, N. C., for the construction of a disciplinary barracks, a power house, industrial buildings and apartment houses at Marine Barracks, Quantico, Va., to cost $1,653,500.

The work contracted for at the Quantico marine barracks is the second part of the first project for the development of that station as a marine corps base. Funds were made available for this work by the first deficiency bill of December 22, 1927, the amount appropriated being $1,650,000 but authority was given to enter contracts aggregating $2,200,000. The first contract calling for the construction of three barracks buildings was let in March. Estimates for additional developments are to be submitted to congress for action next session.

The Taming of Elizabeth

By WINIFRED BOGGS

INSTALLMENT LXV. STEPHEN PROPOSES.

Elizabeth gave a cry of shocked horror. "Dear Mr. Keene, darling Sir George Burnett, precious General Pig-got, pushing young pups! O, how they wish they were!"

"They at least are old enough to know better," said Stephen.

"You mean only the very young and foolish or the old and imbecile could possibly want to lunch with me?"

"I mean nothing of the sort, Elizabeth! How can you be so aggravating? You know perfectly well that I—"

As usual, she interrupted before he could finish. "I think I shall write a book on 'How a Perfectly Good Girl Can Live on Nothing,'" she grinned shamelessly. "It ought to make a lot of money. After all, even 25 pounds will come to an end some day."

"You know that—"

"I know I'm not going to accept any more clothes from you, guardian or not—"

"I wish you would not always refer to this guardian business. Can't you look upon me—"

"No, I can't, and even if I can't take any more clothes—and how did I know you were going to buy all those?—I certainly can't take any money." Her eyes grew very demure.

"I suppose I shall have to cast myself upon the world again," she added.

Stephen writhed and began a little to lose his "breath"—in other words, his patient. "Damn it all, Elizabeth, you shall never—"

"What else is there," she asked, innocently. She caught her own breath. This was rather asking for it; it would need some agility to swim clear this time.

"There's marriage," he began eagerly. "You must have thought of that. Girls do, don't they?"

"Some never think of anything else," agreed Elizabeth, "but it must be awkward, because once they are married they're left without anything to think of for the rest of their lives."

"Married to a devoted and indulgent husband," she struggled on; "what could be nicer than that, Elizabeth—"

"Not being married to one's kind and indulgent husband, Stephen—"

"dear," she retorted, a wicked sparkle in her eyes.

He frowned. "What on earth do you mean?"

"Having your cake and eating it," she replied. "It's what everybody really wants to do." She would continue to tease him after they were married; it would be good for both of them. But he would only laugh then; he did not laugh now. Any sense of humor he possessed had entirely vanished for the time being.

"One can't," he said.

"But one can always try," she returned. "Still, if you want to marry me—"

"I do—"

"Of course you do; it's your duty as my guardian. Well, if you insist I will marry Mr. Keene. That ought to please you—to have your ward" married to a rich old gentleman who would spoil her and give her all her own way—and perhaps not last very long," she added, hopefully.

"Marry a rich man for his money?" exploded Stephen.

"A guardian should be glad his ward had so much sense. Would you have me marry a poor man for his poverty? Money doesn't make a man the wrong man any more than poverty makes a man the right one. I mean, why always elope with the poor one and not give the rich one a chance? Poor Mr. Keene has hardly the shape for an eloper; it must be difficult to elope quickly enough when you're about 16 stone. I should have to elope first and trust to his catching up with me—but he might be too breathless to honor and obey me in the church, and then it wouldn't be legal, would it?"

"O, Stephen, you ought to swear under your breath!"

"You're enough to make me forget it!" he exclaimed, exasperated. No he did not love the young Elizabeth. How could he when he longed most of all to shake her—at least something of that sort, although he was prepared to make up for it afterwards?

She sighed. "The next time I earn my own living—"

"Whatever comes or goes, you shall never try that again," he said, angrily. "The temptations—"

"Temptations!" her voice was wistful. "But there weren't any! When I am a grandmother, trying to hold my own with up-to-date grandchildren, I shall have to invent them all to make the young people respect me, and I'm sure I shall—"

"I suppose it's like everything else; there are so many young and pretty girls there aren't even enough temptations to go round!"

"Will you ever be serious?"

"I was nothing else for months; so serious that I nearly died of it," and her lip quivered.

"O, my poor, dear little girl!" Stephen's voice was husky. "Don't, don't think of that. I am going to make you forget it all!"

She burst into tears, trembling violently. "If you could! O, if you could! Stephen, I've been poisoned with it!"

His arms were around her. "My darling! My dearest! We're going to forget all that, you and I together. My own little Elizabeth—"

"you will, don't you?"

She smiled up at him through her tears. "I suppose I shall have to—"

"though I don't know what you mean."

"What I mean is, I'm getting married! That's what I mean."

"I think it's a perfectly frightful idea," said Elizabeth.

POEMS THAT LIVE.

THE RECOGNITION

HOME they brought her sailor son,
Grown a man across the sea,
Tall and broad and black of beard,
And hoarse of voice as man may be.

Hand to shake and mouth to kiss,
Both he offered ere he spoke;
But she said, "What man is this Comes to play a sorry joke?"

Then they praised him—called him "smart,"
"Tightest lad that ever stepped;"
But her son she did not know
And she neither smiled nor wept.

Rose, a nurse of ninety years,
Set a pigeon-pie in sight;
She saw him eat—"Tis he! 'tis he!"
She knew him—by his appetite!

WEST END—"The Perfect Crime," "The Valley of the Hunted Men."

KEITH'S GEORGIA.

But two days remain for Atlanta showgoers to see the innovation in the all-girl show appearing this week at Keith's Georgia theater. The all-girl show is composed entirely of girls. There is every type of girl imaginable in the line-up and it is to be said to the credit of the show that they put on an entertainment quite on a par with the best male efforts. It is unusual to say the least to witness an entire performance in which no man appears.

Loew's Capitol.

Broadway's "favorite band," the Hotel Astor orchestra, headed by Freddie Rich, is the headline attraction on a pleasing vaudeville program at Loew's Capitol theater this week. Another big feature on the bill is the comedy of Joe Bonomo and Lou Gault, two of the ablest comedians ever seen in Atlanta. Marion Davies has one of her greatest and lightest roles in "The Cardboard Lover," the Loew feature picture.

Loew's Grand.

Massive in its scenes and spectacular in its action, "Ben Hur," the famous super-drama of the screen, is the headline attraction at Loew's Grand theater this week where it is being offered for the first time here at popular prices. With Ramon Novarro, May McAvoy and Francis X. Bushman in leading roles, this classic is easily one of the biggest pictures ever produced.

Howard.

"Lila Time," First National's gigantic spectacle of the air, playing at the Howard theater this week, will close its Atlanta engagement Saturday. According to the management, numerous requests have been received to hold this extraordinary attraction over for another week, but previous bookings make this impossible. Ray Teal and the Howard stage band offer the Public stage show "Gems," a delightful entertainment bit featuring Maxine Hamilton.

Metropolitan.

Clive Brook and Irene Rich, stars of the first Photophone talking picture, "The Perfect Crime," now being shown at the Metropolitan, are said never to have given more wonderful performances on the silver screen. The picture is a mystery play and is both thrilling and entertaining. Winnie Lightner, former Follies beauty, is seen and heard on the Vitaphone program.

Rialto.

Bert Swor, clever blackface comic, is starring the Vitaphone vaudeville bill at the Rialto theater this week with an act in which he presents an uproariously funny sketch of negro dialogue delivered in a colorful manner. The Foy family, famous vaudevillians, present a burlesque novelty on the old time melody "The Perfect Crime," which is supplemented by the entertaining feature, "The Sawdust Paradise," starring Esther Ralston, Reed Howes and Hobart Bosworth.

Empire.

The "It" girl, gain shows she does it! Clara Bow is co-starring with local Esther Ralston and handsome Gary Cooper in "Children of Divorce," today only at the Empire theater. Incidentally it is also "amateur night" at the popular Georgia avenue theater.

Cameo.

Beatrice Fairfax's great romance, "The Perfect Crime," with Sally O'Neil, Molly O'Day and Larry Kent, shows at the Cameo today. This is the first time that these two sisters have appeared on the screen together.

Alamo No. 2.

"A Man's Past," appearing at Alamo theater No. 2 today only, is a screen adaptation of the celebrated Harriet Beecher Stowe's novel, written by Emory Fendley, and deals with the efforts of an escaped convict from a French prison to rehabilitate himself before society.

Tudor.

"The Valley of the Hunted Men," an outstanding picture among the western films, features Bud Ekins, Jr., and shows at the Tudor theater today and Saturday on the same program with the eleventh episode of "The Jungle Goddess."

SON OF POLICEMAN INJURED IN FALL.

Edwin Gordon, 9-year-old son of Captain J. L. Gordon, of the Atlanta police department, suffered a fracture of the left arm late Thursday afternoon when he fell from a tree while he was at play near his home at 830 Norcross street.

The boy told attendants at Grady hospital, where he was carried for treatment, that he was climbing about in a large tree in a neighbor's yard when he was seized by a rotten limb and crashed to the ground. He fell a distance of approximately 20 feet.

Howard To Begin Weekly Presbyterian Children's Club Shows

RAY TEAL TO HEAD KIDDIES' CLUB

In response to numerous requests from both the patrons of the theater and from Ray Teal, himself, the Howard theater management Thursday announced that beginning at 10 o'clock Saturday morning a special Howard Saturday Morning Children's Club, presided over by Mr. Teal, will be held weekly.

With the popular band leader directing activities, children of the city will enjoy each Saturday morning at the theater and will be entertained by a special show. In addition to this feature, another outstanding attraction to the club is the fact that it will present its own stage shows, using members of the club as material.

Mr. Teal long has wanted the opportunity of working with the children of the city who are particularly talented in any stage or musical line, and it is forecast that the new club will be extremely popular.

The Howard management recalls the fact that Al Short, former band leader at that house, was able to discover some remarkable talent among local children, and it is felt that Mr. Teal will be able to exercise the same influence on the development of stage influence.

However, it is pointed out, this is by no means the basic purpose of the club, which will meet weekly principally for the purpose of putting on a big show among its members and enjoying special picture entertainment provided by the theater.

Kiddies who play any kind of musical instrument are especially urged to bring their saxophone, violin or trumpet to the Howard for the club meeting and play with Mr. Teal. Children under 12 are eligible for membership.

After the Howard Saturday Morning Children's Club performance, the children may then remain in the theater and see a complete performance of the de luxe program offered by the Howard without cost other than the small admission to the morning club matinee.

Miss Hazel Jones Named Fourth Winner in Contest

PERSONALITY WINS AUDIENCE

BY ELMO HAMBLY.

Cute, baby-faced, altogether attractive and with not a little bit of personality, Miss Hazel Jones was named winner in the fourth elimination trial in the personality contest of the city who are particularly talented in any stage or musical line, and it is forecast that the new club will be extremely popular.

Miss Jones, who is fairly well known through her appearance in several local theatrical productions, and through her dances, was given a decisive hand over two other contestants, Miss Jessie Lee Barnes and Miss Alice Orman.

A very nice voice, surprisingly sweet and steady, was Miss Jones' winning card of the night, although her "selling" powers are remarkably well developed. She has a more than ordinary personality and should be right up in the race for the finals which occur at the 9 o'clock show Saturday night.

The five young girls who have won elimination trials on each of the nights this week, throughout the night, will meet in the finals, and from them one will be named to receive the first and only prize—a four weeks' engagement on the Howard theater, the big Public shows at $75 per week.

On each night of the elimination trials, audience applause has been the method of judging the entrants. In the finals on Saturday night, while audience applause will largely influence the decision, the judges will select the winner, after judging all the winners by the complex requirements of theaterdom.

FEAR KIDNAPERS BEITZEL'S COUNSEL FIRE FIRM CASE

Chicago, September 13.—(AP)—Renewed threats of a torture death for little Billie Raniere, 10-year-old son of a wealthy Chicago contractor, were received today by the boy's parents as police doubled their efforts to trace the kidnapers who demand $60,000.

Frank A. Raniere, the father, already has sent $10,000 to the kidnapers, police learned today from two little girls, chums of Alice Raniere, sister of Billy.

The father and mother, police of the Cragin district reported, have appealed for protection for their six other children. The entire district in which Raniere lives is aroused over the kidnapping matter, and the father and mother are being watched by police.

Police see in these terroristic tactics, a new mania method of extorting money from a victim. The entire northwest side of Chicago was reinforced with extra police today and a picked squad of detectives was sent into the Sicilian district in search for the abductors.

Women cried as they testified yesterday before a jury of six men and a judge, that they saw their son, Billie Raniere, 10-year-old son of a wealthy Chicago contractor, being taken away from their home.

Washington, September 13.—(United News.)—General John J. Pershing, the only living general of the army, observed his sixty-eighth birthday today by spending several hours at work in his office at the War department.

He took a short time off to receive four decorations from foreign governments which had been held in the state department awaiting congressional approval.

At 68, when most men who have been active as the general have retired, General Pershing still works and works hard. He has been active from the active list of army officers for four years ago but he still maintains his offices and continues as chairman of the battle monument commission.

His heart and soul are still wrapped up in the A. E. F. His great task now is to see that those who died under his command in France are given the greatest possible recognition for their sacrifices.

Imposing marble monuments now dot many of the battle fields of France, and a fund is being raised to mark the graves of the American dead. These were erected under the direction of General Pershing, and other memorials are under construction.

HITS AT PASTORS MAKING POLITICAL STUMPS OF PULPITS

Dallas, Texas, September 13.—(AP)—Withdrawal of "petitions" from pastors "who are making political stumps of their pulpits in the circulation of false slanders designed to lead any unjust persons away from the democratic party," was advocated by Judge Maxwell Rice, Sherman, Texas, in an address before the organization meeting of the Dallas county women's democratic campaign committee yesterday.

G. O. P. GOVERNOR ASKS REELECTION AS A DEMOCRAT

Bismarck, N. D., September 13.—(AP)—Governor Walter Maddock, a non-partisan leader heretofore allied with the republican party, announced today he would file for reelection as a democrat.

Governor Maddock, who became chief executive recently upon the death of Governor A. G. Sorlie, was elected lieutenant governor two years ago on the republican ticket.

NEGRO CONFESSES ATTACK ON GIRL

Memphis, September 13.—(AP)—Miss Sykes, a stenographer, was shot as she grappled with one of two negroes.

Calldwell told police that he and Miss Sykes had been sitting in the car only a few minutes when a negro jumped on the running board and held her by the neck of her dress and pulled her into the car.

Calldwell said he was forced to get out of the car and made to run down the road. He said he had gone only a few feet when he heard Miss Sykes scream and then a shot.

A young woman drove to a signal tower at a railroad crossing where the watchman called the police.

Memphis, Tenn., September 13.—(AP)—The Rev. Dr. A. H. Hips was unfrocked and excommunicated from fellowship of the church by the Memphis presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian church here today.

Rev. Mr. Hips was charged with conduct and decorum unbecoming for making the remark "that if a man should stand up for the right in the Memphis presbytery he would have his head cut off."

Soon after the unfrocking of the minister, the presbytery voted down a resolution "deploring and condemning the effort being made by politicians and newspaper editors to humiliate and discredit members of the church for taking part in the moral questions pertaining to the national political campaign."

The Rev. C. A. Davis presented the resolution that called for the Rev. Hips' unfrocking and it was adopted unanimously. The accused said the Rev. Hips had been asked three times to appear and defend himself but he had refused the request.

The meeting reached a climax when the resolution defending ministers' stand on the national political campaign was introduced by the Rev. C. A. Davis, of Arlington. It followed the report of the temperance committee, which had urged ministers to refrain from taking part in the political campaign.

As soon as the resolution was presented the Rev. J. N. Everett, chairman on the temperance committee, particularly addressed Mr. Hips, a T. C. (Tennessee) and the moderator, J. D. McTear, cast the vote that defeated the motion.

ATLANTA CREDIT MEN HEAR JUDGE JENKINS

Speaking before a crowd estimated at 1,500 or 2,000 persons who crowded into the local high school auditorium, Judge William F. Jenkins, of the court of appeals, made the principal address at the regular monthly meeting of the Atlanta Association of Credit Men, in the Chamber of Commerce building Thursday night.

P. M. Williams, newly-elected president of the association, presided at the meeting and acted as master of ceremonies. He outlined the program of the association for the coming year, announced the names of the executive committee members, and presented the report of the association for the past year.

The speaker was introduced by Governor George, who said he had been very interested in the program of the association, and that he had been very interested in the program of the association, and that he had been very interested in the program of the association.

Attacks G. O. P.

Attacking the republican party, the speaker asserted that the primary election of 1935 in Pennsylvania, "that organization's candidates for office expended $3,000,000. William S. Vare, one of the nominees, he added, is yet knocking at the door of the senate and will not take his seat until next Monday or Tuesday when he will be in the white house."

Senator George dwelt upon the prohibition and the religious liberty, and said that he had been very interested in the program of the association, and that he had been very interested in the program of the association.

The Day in Finance

By R. L. BARNUM

New York, September 13.—Fearing a large weekly increase in brokers' loans after the close of the stock market because of the record breaking volume of trading in the stock market, the past week on advancing prices, traders with profits sold stocks at the opening of the market this morning.

The selling increased in the second hour after Warner, Stanley, Fox and other amusement shares broke from 5 to 14 points, probably on the theory that with the good news out of the Warner-Stanley merger, a setback was due in these shares after the recent record advance.

In the second hour the selling movement in the stock market ran its course and a slow recovery started, encouraged by a drop at noon in the money rate from 7 1/2 to 7. Time money was firmer, the rate on four to six months loans advancing from 6 1/2 to 7 percent to 0.34 bid, little offered. Thirty to ninety day money continued at 7 percent.

Commercial paper was a shade higher. Selling of stocks was resumed in the last hour.

Drop in Call Money.

The drop in the call money rate is believed to have resulted from the present rate of 1 1/2 percent, and from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 from the federal reserve bank to pay off holders of the liberty 4-1/4 percent bonds maturing Saturday.

Banks will hold the money borrowed by the government thus adding to the available supply of day to day money. The government will pay back the federal reserve banks with the funds raised from the sale of the new nine percent 1 1/2 percent bonds and from September 15 income tax payments.

Wall street believes that the funds borrowed by the government being held temporarily by the member banks will be returned to the banks by the government by the end of the month.

NEW ORLEANS SPOT COTTON.
 New Orleans, September 13.—Spot cotton closed easier, 44 points down. Sales 4,686. Low middling 16.88; middling 17.00; good middling 17.50; receipts 2,693; stock 87,311.

movement under liquidation and southern selling. December contracts sold off to 17.51, a net decline of 316 points and about 164 points from last Saturday's high level and closed at the lowest. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 16 to 29 points in response to lower Liverpool cables and reports of good oil pressure was absorbed by covering of oil trade buying, but offerings increased.

The day's lowest levels were reached in late trading, October selling off to 17.55 and March to 17.43, and active months showing net losses of 35 to 47 points.

Covering during midday seemed to be promoted by continued unfavorable crop reports, including claims that it was being found necessary to reduce estimates in Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

COTTON TURNS ACTIVE AT CLOSE.

New Orleans, September 13.—(A)—The cotton market, although somewhat dull during the morning, became more active in afternoon trading today and pected at the start here and first trades showed losses of 13 to 14 points. The fair weather map was responsible for a further decline in early trading which carried October contracts down to 16.97 and December to 17.02, or 29 to 32 points below yesterday's close.

Business tapered off at these levels and prices fluctuated narrowly for the remainder of the morning. Near mid-session there was a rally of 7 to 10 points on trade buying on the weak-ading, carried October to 16.82 and December 16.90, or 44 points below the previous close. The market closed on or near the bottom.

ARKANSAS VOWS

Don't Want to Pay Royalty

Little Rock, Ark., September 13.—(AP)—Unanimously pledging the Smith-Robinson ticket the greatest majority in the history of Arkansas, delegates to the democratic state convention closed their first day's session with a final outburst of enthusiasm for party loyalty, in the apparent harmony which prevailed throughout the day.

The convention ordered copies of the resolution sent to Governor Smith at Albany and Senator Robinson at Columbia, S. C., by telegraph.

Taking the platform for the final speaker on the program today, Senator T. H. Caraway, Arkansas junior senator, repeatedly was interrupted by approving shouts and prolonged applause in his arraignment of the republican presidential nominee, who he called "Mr. Herbert Hoover."

After assailing the administration of the republicans for the last seven years for corruption and graft, the senator said "this is not only a question in this campaign—the religious one. If it were not for that, the democratic ticket would poll the greatest majority in the history of the country."

"What's back of it all is religion and I don't think it is right to dignify it subject for political debate," the senator said, citing the doctrine of religious liberty laid down in the constitution.

"Governor Smith is the most colorful man in public life and the confidence he has merited by his record among all classes of people is remarkable," he said.
